HARDING NIPS BIG SPLURGE

THOUSANDS SEE SMALL SWORN IN AT CAPITAL

Festivities Marked by Enthusiasm.

BY DANIEL F. SULLIVAN.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—[Special.] The booming of cannon, blaring of brass bands, and the measured tramp of thousands of feet today greeted the installation of Len Small as the thirty-first governor of Illinois.

The ceremonies were the most pretentious that the capital has witnessed since 1896, when John R. Tanner became governor. They served to bring to Springfield thousands of persons from all parts of the state—Chicago alone sending 2,000.

Springfield furnished ideal weather. Overcoats were discarded by those in the parade and by most of the spectators.

Fete's Military Tinge.

The ceremonies were largely military in character. They were under the direction of Brig. Gen. Frank S. Dickman, adjutant general of the state.

The celebration began with the seating of the governor elect from the executive mansion to the house of representatives, where he took the oath. The 250 piece band of the University of Illinois led the parade, followed by 1,000 members of the reserve officers' training corps from the university, fully equipped.

Following the cadets marched the officers of five infantry regiments of the federalized national guard, all from Chicago. This section was led by Maj. Gen. Joseph B. Sanborn, commander of the division which Illinois furnishes to the new army reserve.

Officers in the Parade.

Brig. Gen. Milton J. Foreman and Brig. Gen. James E. Stuart and Col. Edson L. Bolte, 1st infantry; W. C. Hanson, 2d infantry; John V. Clinnin, 8th infantry; Henry J. Reilly, 7th infantry, and John R. Duncan, 8th infantry, marched with Gen. Sanborn's staff.

The other officers marched in squad formation, the lieutenant colonels of the various regiments leading them in the following order: First, 2d, 6th, 7th, and 8th infantry. The officers of the 8th infantry (colored) were resplendent with the decorations won while brigaded with French troops.

The national guard officers were followed by the Hamilton club, and then the cadet corps of the Morgan Park Military academy, under the command of regular army officers, furnished the personal escort to the governor and the governor elect.

When the parade reached the capitol grounds it passed through the lines of sentries at present arms. These were furnished by six companies of troops from Springfield and nearby towns.

House Chamber Thronged.

The chamber of the house was crowded. Most of the seats on the floor had been allotted to the Chicago delegation, which arrived in the morning on several special trains. Most of these Chicagoans were members of the city hall organization.

The galleries, filled mostly by Springfield residents, cheered when Mrs. Lowden and Mrs. Small appeared at the head of the invited guests. The rear of the procession was a signal for a demonstration; almost the last person to appear was Mayor Thompson. There were cheers.

The gallery cheered several minutes for Gov. Lowden, when he began his speech, while those on the floor applauded in a perfunctory manner. Mr. Small also was given a generous share of applause.

The official part of the day's program ended with the reception at the executive mansion. This was well attended.

Unofficially, the festivities continued until the special trains of the Chicagoans left for home shortly after midnight. The Chicago Motor club gave a dinner-dance at the Hotel Leland.

Lowden Thanks Assembly.

Gov. Lowden's last official act was to address the joint session of the general assembly. He said:

"Just four years ago I appeared here and asked for your coöperation.

"Now, at the end of four years, I appear before you, gentlemen of the forty-second general assembly, to thank you for the generous manner in which during that time you extended to me your full coöperation.

"These have been strenuous years. I had been here only a few weeks when war, raging beyond the sea, involved our own people. During the fateful months that followed the general assembly and its chief executive were in perfect accord and acted with one thought—the honor of the state."

Gov. Small's address and pictures of the inauguration appear on page 3.

SHOTGUN KILLS JOS. LEITER JR. WHILE HUNTING

R. C. Thorne Victim of Auto Accident.

The sons of two old and wealthy Chicago families met tragic deaths yesterday.

Joseph Leiter Jr., 10 years old son of Joseph Leiter, millionaire resident of Chicago and Washington, was killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun while duck hunting in Louisiana.

Raymond C. Thorne, son of the late W. C. Thorne, former president of Montgomery Ward & Co., was killed in Los Angeles when his automobile turned turtle, pinning him beneath it.

News of Leiter Boy's Death.

News of the death of young Leiter reached Chicago late in the afternoon. Seymour Morris, trustee of the Leiter estate, had a brief message from the boy's father confirming it. An Associated Press dispatch from New Orleans said:

"Joseph Leiter Jr. was killed today while hunting near the mouth of the Mississippi river by the unexplained explosion of a cartridge in his gun. According to his father, who was entertaining a party of friends at Chateau Canard on a hunting trip in the nearby swamps, the boy left the shooting lodge.

"After shooting a duck the lad reloaded his shotgun and laid it on the ground while he went after the bird. When he returned and picked up the gun the shell was exploded, killing him instantly. Mr. Leiter Sr. was not at the lodge at the time.

Burial in Washington.

"The boy's body is being brought by boat to Buras, the nearest town to the hunting camp, about 100 miles south of this city, where it will be transferred to a special train and brought here. It will be taken to Washington on a special train for burial."

The slain youth, son of the man who became world famous when he cornered the wheat market in the Chicago pit, was a grandson of Levi Z. Leiter of Chicago, who founded the Leiter fortune. He was a nephew of the late Lady Curzon of England. The boy would have inherited an estate of several millions had he grown to manhood.

Brother and Sister Survive.

The boy was the second of four children born to Mr. and Mrs. Leiter. He was the eldest living child. The first baby died within a month after its birth in June, 1909. The surviving children are Thomas, 9 years old, and Nancy, 5.

Joseph Jr., who was born July 5, 1910, was a particularly sturdy and handsome chap. He had been attending a private school in Washington.

The Leiters were married in June, 1908. Mrs. Leiter was Miss Juliett Williams.

AUTO KILLS R. C. THORNE

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 10 [Special.]—Raymond C. Thorne, a vice-president of Montgomery Ward & Co., Chicago, was killed here this morning when his automobile skidded and turned turtle on Wilshire boulevard.

He was hurrying from a downtown club to his palatial residence in Beverly Hills when the accident occured. He lay in the mud, pinned beneath the heavy machine, for some time before a passing motorist found him. He was not identified for several hours, until William C. Camp, his step-father, visited the undertaking establishment in which the body lay.

FIGURED IN ELOPEMENT.

Raymond Thorne was the 33 year old son of the late W. C. Thorne, of Chicago. In 1909 he married Miss R. Mayme Woods of Boston, with whom he eloped while a sophomore at Dartmouth. Young Thorne had met Miss Woods while attending a Boston business college to fit himself for the commercial career mapped out by his millionaire father. The bride was welcomed to the Thorne home and young Thorne left college to begin his business career as an employe of the mail order house of which his father was then vice-president.

Went West To Open Home.

Last spring he went to California and built a palatial residence for his wife in Beverly Hills, a suburb of Los Angeles. It had only been recently completed and a week ago he again went west to prepare for its opening.

Mrs. William C. Camp, Thorne's mother, who lives at 3314 Sheridan road, and his widow, who is visiting her, are prostrated by the tragedy. Both are under the care of physicians.

AIRMEN WELL; DUE IN MATTICE AT 4 P. M. TODAY

Camped for Night 20 Miles Away.

Mattice, Ont., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The three American navy officers, Lieuts. Hinton, Kloor, and Farrell, who abandoned their wrecked balloon near Moose Factory on the shore of James bay on Dec. 14, are due in Mattice tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Earl Trowz, one of the runners sent out by newspaper correspondents to give advance notice of their coming, arrived here at 10 o'clock tonight and reported that the party, with all members in good shape, had made a camp for the night at Skunk island, twenty miles from here on the Missinaibi river.

Trowz, who made a trip of eighteen miles over the heavy trail in five hours, was two miles south of Skunk island at 5 o'clock this afternoon when W. R. Clarke, leader of the correspondents' expedition, came rushing to him as fast as his snowshoes could carry him and directed him to make all speed for Mattice with the announcement.

All in Party Well.

Clarke did not stop to tell him any details beyond the fact that all members of the party were well and that they had made camp at the island and might be expected in Mattice about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Earlier in the night a message had been received from Clarke from the hands of an Indian, who said Clarke then was five and one-half miles south of Skunk island. Clarke retraced his trail just in time to get direct news of the returning balloonists at the island.

Clarke reached Mattice at 11 p. m. and had nothing to add to Trowz' story except to explain that he did not personally see the party but learned of their whereabouts from an Indian runner.

WARN OF HEAVY GOING

BY JAMES WHITTAKER.

Mattice, Ont., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The Indian who early this evening brought the first message from W. R. Clarke regarding the American navy lieutenants is David Sagabishkom, a brother to the Hiram Sagabishkom mentioned in yesterday's dispatch. The two brothers met uptrail, Hiram bound for Longportage, sixty miles in, with grub, and David on the long south trail to Chapleau, Ontario, where there is an Indian reservation and an industrial school, where his two children will learn useful, fascinating things to do with the hands.

David met Clarke at Kettle Portage, fourteen miles north of here, and waited while Clarke tore the page from his note book on which the message is written. They made midday camp together Sunday.

Clarke warned David of the heavy going ahead in the direction of Mattice. David had a similar report of the trail north to Cabbage island, which is David's home on the banks of the Missinabi, and where a cache of supplies is usually maintained.

Amateurs Hit the Trail.

Today an independent musher started out on the trail. He is Sam Sainsbury, the local cutup and adventurer. Sam is by way of being a great investor and one of his dreams is iron ore on Belcher island. A secondary object of Sam's trip was to take motion pictures of the American navy party. No musher starts up this trail without them in mind.

The fantastic outfit started out with cursing, barking, spitting, and glory at noon. At nightfall they sent back word from a point two miles out that several of the dogs and two of the men had collapsed, that they would camp for the night, and that they needed no aid.

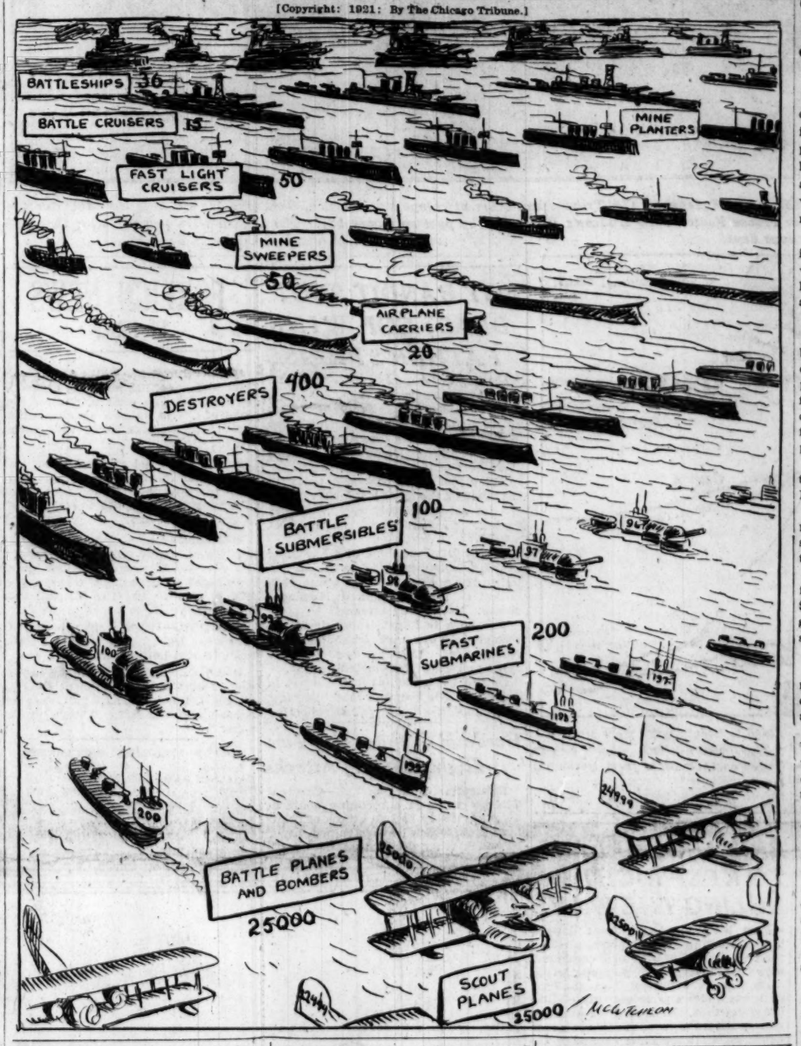

For the last part of their message they were taken at their word; none stirred to go out. The Indian trailers here will risk life and limb to hunt for the three American aviators, but they draw a very definite line at being hourly rescue parties to bring in the sorefooted amateurs who have rushed in where huskies fear to tread.

150 Library Employes and 15 Branches Will Go

Immediate retrenchment in the service of the public library was ordered yesterday when it was announced at a meeting of the library board that the 1921 revenue will be $789,000 and that the service, continued on the present basis, would cost $1,031,655. The board ordered 150 employes be laid off, cutting more than $113,000 from the pay roll. The layoff will close approximately fifteen branches, among which will be all branches in high schools.

READY TO FORGIVE MEN WHO ROBBED HIM OF $353,000

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 10.—Forgiveness would have been the portion of John H. Milholland and Jay P. Hough had they come to him, said James C. Callahan on his arrival here tonight in connection with Milholland's suicide and Hough's confession that he and Milholland had embezzled $353,000 from Callahan.

Callahan, Idaho mining millionaire and old time prospector, arrived late tonight from the cabin where he lived alone near Wallace, Idaho. He said:

"If the boys had come to me and laid the cards on the table I would have said 'forget it, boys,' rather than to have any man commit suicide. I could not find it in my heart to judge any man as John Milholland has judged himself.

"I do not believe these boys started out to do wrong, but one is just as guilty as the other. They just kept going and getting in a little worse until they got desperate."

Canadian Official, 67, Beats Off Two Holdup Men

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 10.—R. H. Grant, minister of education for Ontario, tonight put two bandits to flight after they held him up in front of the parliament buildings here. Ordered to stand and deliver, the minister, who is 60 years old, clubbed the holdup men with his walking stick with such effect that they soon hurried away. One of them had drawn a revolver, but Mr. Grant held the weapon when the battle ended. The minister proceeded to his office in the parliament buildings.

Nebraska Children Form Own Methodist Church

Scott's Bluffs, Neb., Jan. 10.—What is believed to be the first children's church in Nebraska was organized here yesterday with an enrollment of 145 members, mostly under 12 years old. From the preacher down to ushers all the officers will be children. The church is sponsored by the Methodist Episcopal church.

Quit Liquor and Tobacco to Beat Britain's Taxes

DUBLIN, Jan. 10.—The Wexford county council has adopted resolutions calling on the Irish councils to prohibit the consumption of liquor and tobacco in Ireland, in order to deprive the imperial exchequer of taxes from these commodities, estimated at £20,000,000.

WED WOOLWORTH, $10 CLERK; GETS $30,000,000 ESTATE

Widow of 10 Cent Store Man Willed All.

Mineola, L. I., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—In a document of less than 200 words, written thirty years ago, when he was a poor man, Frank W. Woolworth, originator of the 5 and 10 cent stores, who died April 8, 1919, willed his estate of close to thirty millions to his wife. This was disclosed here today when James N. Gehrig, transfer tax appraiser, filed an appraisal in the Surrogate's court.

The filing of the terse testament because of the date the will bore, July 31, 1889, a date when Woolworth was beset with all of the trials of a struggling young business man—added a touch of romance in keeping with the rise of an itinerant storekeeper in Watertown, N. Y., to a leader of finance.

Thirteen years before he wrote the will Woolworth married the daughter of Thomas Creighton of Picton, Ontario. And records show that the day before his marriage Woolworth's salary was raised to $10 a week.

Values as Appraised.

Mr. Woolworth died on April 8, 1919, and the net value of the estate he left, as appraised, is $27,205,283, and with the payment of the transfer tax of $1,084,761 the total tax levy of federal and state authorities was raised to $2,018,882.

More than $25,000,000 of the estate consisted of holdings in the F. W. Woolworth company and in the Broadway-Park Place company, which Mr. Woolworth organized in the construction of the big building that bears his name. In addition, he held stocks or bonds in a number of railroads.

Fidelity in Shadowy Hour.

In connection with the revelation that the vast estate had been passed without restriction to Mrs. Woolworth some speculation was aroused as to its future administration. It was recalled that in June, 1918, Mr. Woolworth asked the court to appoint a committee to care for the property of his wife. He said that he took this step "with very great regret and sadness," but that it had become necessary "to report to the court that my wife is and has been for more than two years incompetent."

Testimony was offered that Mrs. Woolworth was not insane, but that her mentality had retrograded. Hubert Parsons, president of the Woolworth company, and the two daughters were then appointed to administer Mrs. Woolworth's affairs.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—A rumor in Detroit and Highland Park Monday evening says W. G. All attempts to verify the report through Henry Ford, Edsel Ford, and Secretary E. G. Liebold were unsuccessful.

The STORY of TRIBUNE CIRCULATION

'Glass, Handle with Care,' Is $10,000 Rum

Acting on information that hundreds of cases of whisky were seeping into Chicago disguised as merchandise, prohibition agents yesterday raided half a dozen railway baggage stations and seized seventeen liquor shipments valued at $10,000. Three men were arrested.

Practically all information concerning arrests was suppressed pending investigations in other cities. It is believed at least a score of men will be arrested.

"Glass—Handle with Care."

Most of the packages were seized before delivery, but in certain cases dry agents followed the shipments to private homes. Seventeen boxes and four trunks made up the lot. In most cases the label "Glass, handle carefully," appeared. The American Express was used as the shipping medium.

Frand D. Richardson, dry chief of the central district, left last night for Milwaukee to continue the inquiry.

"Shipment of liquor as merchandise must stop," he declared. "We will stop it if we have to assign an agent to every baggage station."

It is believed most of the booze comes from New York. In the last week $30,000 worth of beverage whisky, disguised as soap, junk, or rags, has been seized.

Watch for Claimants.

Rumors regarding yesterday's shipments reached Chicago on Sunday. In each case the agents waited for claimants before grabbing the liquor.

Morris and Samuel Weinger of 840 West Kinzie street were held for further hearing by Commissioner Mason on charges of conspiracy to violate the dry laws. They were arrested after thirty-nine bundles of burlap, each containing a case of whisky, had been intercepted on their way to the men's address.

Police raiders from the Desplaines street station seized thirty-five barrels of beer and forty-two quarts of whisky and turned them over to the prohibition agents last night.

The wine was found in a basement at 716 Sibley street, where fifteen men were gambling. The men are being held. The whisky was found in a room at 114 North Ann street occupied by a woman who gave her name as Lillian Fuell.

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE NOW A CO-ED SEMINARY

The electoral college has become a co-ed institution. The official messengers chosen to carry the formally announced results of each state's vote to Washington are women.

Minnesota electors yesterday chose Mrs. Eugene Dieudonne of Janesville to represent that state's delegation.

Nebraska named Mrs. H. H. Wheeler of Lincoln. Mrs. Anna C. Bird was appointed to fill the vacancy in the Massachusetts electoral college caused by the illness of her husband, Charles Sumner Bird.

Mrs. John L. Pyle of Huron was the first woman to be selected by South Dakota as an elector.

Miss Dell Boyd of Reno will carry Nevada's presidential vote to Washington.

Kentucky also chose a woman as the state's representative; and Mrs. Theodora Youmans of Waukesha is on the Wisconsin delegation.

Londoners Plan to Climb Mt. Everest, World's Roof

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]
[Copyright: 1921.]

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A project by members of the Alpine club and of the Royal Geographical society to climb Mount Everest, the world's highest mountain, was announced tonight. Permission has been granted by the Tibetan government. No white man has ever been within a radius of 40 or 50 miles from its base. Mount Everest is 29,002 feet above the sea level.

CANCELS PLANS FOR ELABORATE INAUGURATION

Insists on Strictest Economy March 4.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Marion, O., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—A complete abandonment of all plans for an inaugural celebration, including the parade and ball, was urged by President Elect Harding in messages sent tonight to Senator P. C. Knox, chairman of the congressional committee, and to Edward B. McLean, chairman of the citizens' inaugural committee.

Mr. McLean at once agreed to Mr. Harding's wishes and announced at Washington the immediate cancellation of all plans for a celebration.

Mr. Harding had watched with dismay the plans for an elaborate celebration. From the beginning he was in favor of an inauguration of Jeffersonian simplicity, but his views previously had not been heeded by the committees planning a $50,000 celebration in the capital on March 4.

Opposition Was Overcome.

The bill for the $50,000 appropriation had been pressed in both houses of congress, meeting, but overcoming, opposition and cries for economy.

The president elect, however, threw a "bomb" into the whole proceedings by declaring tonight for a ceremony of "stately simplicity" on the east porch of the capitol and nothing more.

In this Mr. Harding would set an example of thrift and economy before the people. He wanted no extra preparations and no appropriation from congress. His telegrams and Mr. McLean's announcement halted action by the Washington committees, which were to use $141,000, in addition to the pending government appropriation, which had been raised to defray expenses of what was planned to be the most elaborate inauguration in the history of the country.

His Message to Knox.

Mr. Harding's message to Senator Knox follows:

"I have been reluctant to intrude my views relating to inaugural plans, but I cannot longer remain silent without embarrassment and misunderstanding, which I had rather avoid. Please convey to your committee my sincere wish for the simplest inaugural program consistent with the actual requirements in taking the oath of office and the utterance of a befitting address. I very respectfully request that congress will not appropriate and your committee will not expend any fund whatever. I am familiar with the custom of erecting a platform and providing seats for guests who witness the ceremony at the capitol, but it will be most pleasing to me to have this ceremony take place within the capitol or on the east porch in its stately simplicity, without a single extra preparation for the occasion.

"This will require no expense, and we shall be joint participants in an example of economy as well as simplicity which may be helpful in the process of seeking our normal ways once more. I have addressed a message of like import to the inaugural committee asking the abandonment of the parade and ball, and hope for an acceptance of the intruded suggestion in the spirit which has inspired it.

"WARREN G. HARDING."

The Message to McLean.

Senator Harding's message to Chairman E. B. McLean says:

"I beg respectfully to suggest to your committee the complete abandonment of all plans for an inaugural celebration. Heretofore I have been very reluctant to express my personal views to your committee because I knew of the cherished regard in our national capital for this quadrennial event and the generosity of the citizens of the District in making provision for it.

"You were good enough to accept the chairmanship at my request, and you and your associates have won my lasting gratitude for the time and labor you have given to preparation.

"However, if it is becoming to express my preference, I wish you and your committee to know that the impression of extravagant expenditure and excessive cost would make me a very unhappy participant. I know full well that the government outlay is relatively small, and that the larger expenditure comes from the generous contributions of District citizenship, but it is timely and wholesome to practice the utter denial of public expenditure where there is no real necessity, and it will be a wholesome example of economy and thrift if we save the many, many thousands which the inaugural celebration will call from the private purse of those attending.

"I have sent a message of like purport to the congressional committee, and expressed the wish that no preparations or outlay of any kind be made. It will be most pleasing to me to be simply sworn in, speak briefly my plight of faith to the country, and turn at once to the work which will be calling. Again expressing my gratitude to you and your associates and to the generous people of Washington, I am,

"Very respectfully,

"WARREN G. HARDING."

Mr. Harding would add no comment to these messages.

McLEAN NOT SURPRISED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—E. B. McLean, chairman of the inaugural committee, who canceled tonight the plans for a ceremony at the request of President Elect Harding, was not surprised.

"I realize, of course," he said, "how keen will be the disappointment to the people of Washington, but I have all along known how President Elect Harding felt with respect to the expenditures of large sums of money at this time.

"Because of Mr. Harding's feeling I always was in doubt about the inaugural program being carried out. I felt that Senator Harding's friends and advisers, no matter how much they regret the losses to Washington, will be with him in this matter."

The suggestion was made tonight that Republican leaders in either the senate or house might move to reconsider the vote of their body and thereby withdraw the bill appropriating $50,000 for the government's share of the expenses.

Disbanding of committees appointed by Chairman McLean, whose members number hundreds of persons not only in Washington but elsewhere is expected to begin immediately.

How Protest Started.

Protests against expenditure of money by the government for lavish ceremony at the Harding inauguration began several weeks ago. At that time Senator Knox, chairman of the senate inauguration committee, introduced the usual bill appropriating $50,000 to defray expenses of erecting the inaugural stand and providing for extra police.

Senator Borah, Idaho, declared the president elect should ride to the capitol in a taxicab, at an expense not to exceed $10, and take the oath of office.

Senator Knox easily overcame serious opposition to the appropriation and on Jan. 5 his appropriation was passed, after an amendment backed by senators who were characterized as "the Jeffersonian simplicity brigade," to make the appropriation $10,000, had been defeated by a vote of 43 to 8. In the "Jeffersonian simplicity brigade" were Senators Borah, Fletcher, Gronna, Kenyon, La Follette, McKellar, Norris, and Phelan.

Borah Guessed $1,000,000.

Senator Borah estimated that the inaugural ceremonies would cost the federal and state governments together about $1,000,000. He said it was "almost a crime" to propose such expenditures.

Criticism had arisen also over the attempt to revive the inaugural ball. Members of both houses said they would refuse to vote for permitting the pension building to be used for it. The house today passed the $50,000 appropriation.

LEAGUE DEAD TO U. S.

Marion, O., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—"I recognize that the league of nations so far as this country is concerned is not to be," said William G. Sharp, former ambassador to France, after a conference with President Elect Harding today.

"I have been in favor of the league of nations," Mr. Sharp said.

"I am most gratified to learn from my conversation with the president elect that there is no danger of this country lapsing into a state of 'splendid isolation.'"

Col. F. W. Galbraith Jr., national commander of the American Legion, talked with Mr. Harding today about the breakdown of the service for rehabilitating disabled soldiers. The Legion memorial asks that the three departments handling it be put under one competent man in the department of the interior. He gave instances of the conflict in the present system.

RED SOCIALISTS HIT ARGENTINA'S DOMESTIC TRADE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 10.—The Socialist congress in session at Bahia Blanca voted by acclamation to send a cable to Lenin stating that Argentina Socialists wished the bolsheviki every success, but they voted down a proposal for allegiance to the third international, 5,013 to 3,656.

The efforts of the most radical factions of the Argentine Socialists to bring the Bahia Blanca congress into an open alliance with soviet Russia brings to a head the Red tendencies which have been apparent in many branches of Argentine labor since the revolutionary strike in January, 1919.

River and coastwise shipping has been seriously impeded for eleven months through demands of agitators who gained control of the maritime federation. Many efforts, the most recent of which was last week, to settle the strike have failed through the refusal of these agitators to accept liberal concessions, and 450 vessels remain tied to the wharves.

Taxicabs and private automobiles have not been seen on the streets of Buenos Aires, except in rare instances, for the last two weeks as a result of a strike by 3,000 chauffeurs.

BRITANNIA PLANS TO KEEP RIGHT ON RULING THE WAVE

New York, Jan. 10.—Great Britain now is building more commercial ships than all the rest of the world combined, says Lloyds Register of Shipping today.

On reports including Dec. 31, 1920, shipping under way amounted to 3,709,000 gross tons. In the United States it was 1,310,000 tons, and in all other countries 7,179,000 tons. Tonnage under construction in all countries on Dec. 31, 1919, amounted to 7,861,000 tons.

On a percentage basis the report shows Great Britain's share to be 51.6 per cent of the total, as compared with 38.1 per cent at the beginning of 1920. In the same period the share of the United Sates has decreased from 37.7 per cent to 18.2 per cent.

BOY BANDIT SHOT DEAD; COP WINS FATHER'S PRAISE

Muskogee, Okla., Jan. 10.—"You did right," said Thomas J. Wiley, attorney, as he extended his hand to Paul Nobles, police officer, who shot and killed Wiley's 16 year old son, Eugene, as he leaped from the window of an office room he was robbing, early today.

Wiley met the officer late today in the office of the county attorney.

"I'm sorry; terribly sorry," Nobles replied. "I didn't know he was just a kid."

Young Wiley was one of a boy gang ranging in age from 13 to 17, according to the police. With him was Paul Bailey, 15, son of prominent Muskogee people. Bailey was arrested.

The boys had just leaped from the second story of an office building when Nobles fired. The shot broke Wiley's spine and death was instantaneous.

In the homes of other boys and in dugouts police found jewelry, clothing, and cigars, the loot of recent robberies.

NEW GOVERNOR STANDS ON CITY HALL PLATFORM

For City Car Lines, Foe of Utilities Body.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—Gov. Len Small went on record as standing for those principles embodied in the minority report of the committee on resolutions of the Republican state convention held in Springfield on May 10 last—the city hall platform—in his inaugural address here today.

"As a member of this committee," Gov. Small said, "I supported in committee and on the floor of the convention, and voted for, the minority report embodying certain principles affecting the liberties and rights of our people and the lives and well being of every man, woman, and child in our commonwealth. Now, as governor, I again announce my fidelity to those principles, and give notice that I shall rely upon them as a constant guide in determining administrative and political policies.

Fights Public Utilities Act.

"I am deeply sensible of the responsibility as well as the great honor which has come to me with the office of governor. I appeal to all citizens of Illinois and to all state local officials for their support in fulfilling the trust our people have reposed in me.

"I shall endeavor to see that every dollar appropriated will secure a dollar's worth of service.

"I pledged the people of Illinois that I would do all in my power to secure the repeal of the state public utilities act, thereby abolishing the state public utilities commission, and that I would recommend the enactment in its stead of a law giving to all cities in Illinois the right of home rule in the regulation and control of their public utilities. I therefore urge the general assembly to repeal this law.

For Upholding Contracts.

"There should, no doubt, be some agency, exercising governmental authority, with powers and jurisdiction similar to the railroad and warehouse commission, which was supplanted by the present public utilities commission. This may be necessary in cases where two or more communities are served by the same utility. The law should expressly prohibit such agency from setting aside, modifying, or in any manner impairing any contract heretofore or hereafter between a public utility company and the corporate authorities, unless mutually agreed to by the parties and approved on a referendum vote by the people affected.

"Believing that the people should have the power to create transportation districts if they so desire, I respectfully urge the general assembly promptly to enact legislation to permit citizens of Chicago and vicinity, or any other contiguous territory in the state, if they so elect, to establish transportation districts, and to provide for people's ownership and operation of local transportation systems.

Will Push Roads System.

"The state-wide system of hard roads provided for under legislation passed in 1917 was approved by the people of Illinois on a referendum vote in November, 1918. This vote authorized the issuance of bonds to the amount of $60,000,000 for paying the cost of the system. The validity of this act has been upheld by the Supreme court of Illinois. The forty-six routes proposed for the roads are described in the law, and extend throughout the state from boundary to boundary.

"In my opinion, the greatest economic good that can be accomplished for the country district of our state is to push this road system to completion.

"These roads, in order to be always available, at all seasons, must be permanently maintained by the state in much the same manner that the steam railroads are kept up. For this reason I recommend that our state aid roads be subdivided into sections of reasonable lengths, each section to be in charge of an employé of the state, whose duty it would be to constantly keep his section in repair.

For Rein on Parole Law.

"I do not believe habitual criminals should be released repeatedly to commit further crimes. It has been found in our populous centers that a great deal of crime committed is by experienced and seasoned criminals who have been released under the provisions of the parole law. I recommend a careful survey of this situation by the general assembly with a view to denying to those convicted of previous delinquency the benefits of the parole law."

Gov. Small advocated the reclamation of vast areas of rich lands along the state's water courses, which have been subject to overflow; favored the development of coöperative buying and selling in country districts; advocated an amendment to revenue laws to compel "rich tax dodgers to file honest returns, as they are compelled to do under the federal laws."

The redistricting of the state into senatorial and congressional districts on the basis of the 1920 population requires urgent attention, according to Gov. Small. "Such lines should be established," he said, "with reference strictly to the equal representation of the people and their convenience in choosing representatives who reflect their will and without regard to partisan or factional considerations."

Gov. Small asserted there should not be an underpaid school teacher in the state. "Salaries and school equipment should be such that the very best and highest types of men and women are attracted to the profession," he said.

Would Build Up State Militia.

"I heartily favor the upbuilding of the Illinois state militia," the governor said, "and turning the national guard and naval militia into voluntary organizations of the highest possible efficiency."

Discussing federal relations, Gov. Small said: "We hear whisperings of a proposed league of nations for the pretended guarantee of world peace. Under no circumstances should the American congress forsake the policy laid down by George Washington by entering into any league or association of nations which would involve this country in foreign entanglements or alliances without first submitting the proposed covenant to a vote of the people."

The governor favored a liberal bonus to soldiers and sailors and urged Illinois senators and congressmen to bring this about.

Will Name Mayor's Sister.

Gov. Small this afternoon announced to Mayor Thompson his intention of naming the mayor's sister, Mrs. William Nelson Pelouse, as a member of the Lincoln park board.

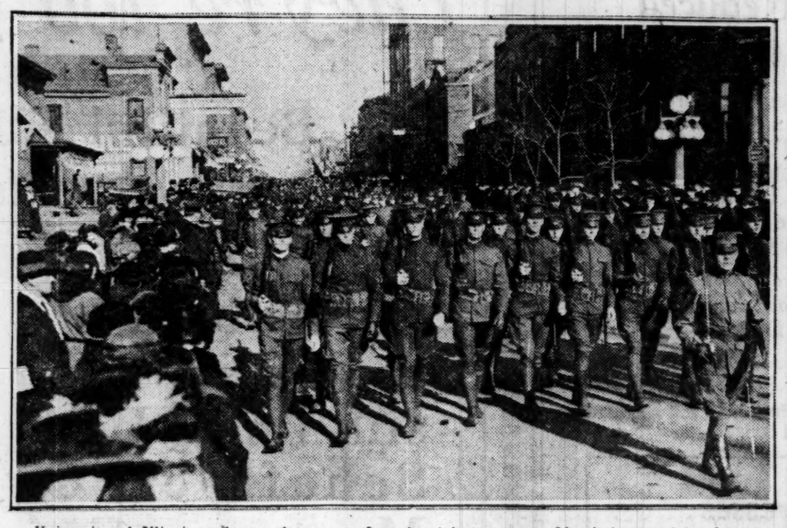

He also announced to friends that E. R. Pike would be president of the board and W. H. Wesbey would be superintendent of the park.

Christian F. Wiehe of the Edward Hines company is expected to be president of the west park board.

SMALL DELAYS ALL ACTION ON STATE CABINET

New Governor Holds Up Appointments.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Gov. Small's potential slate of cabinet appointments went into the waste basket tonight. No agreement has been reached as to any of the major places excepting Col. C. R. Miller for director of public works, and George A. Barr for director of trade and commerce.

It had been arranged that there be a session of the state senate tomorrow to confirm appointments. This arrangement was changed while the joint session of the legislature was being assembled.

Gov. Small made no announcement of any appointment today. Tonight he said that nothing would be determined until next week. It is required that the governor's nominations be transmitted to the state senate for confirmation during the life of the general assembly.

The earlier arrangement had been that the senate would meet tomorrow to receive Gov. Small's recommendations. Under the joint resolution the two houses stand adjourned until next Monday afternoon. Tonight Gov. Small is standing pat and is making no announcements of possible appointments.

EUROPE SPIES ON ALL U. S. CABLES, CARLTON AVERS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Charges that the British government exercises surveillance over American cable business, official as well as private, passing through the British isles and that the state department had extended its controversy with the Western Union Telegraph and Cable company to bring in the Cuban government, came up today before a senate committee.

Norman H. Davis, acting secretary of state, and Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union, conducted a cross-table argument over the Cuban allegation when Mr. Davis flatly denied it.

Chairman Kellogg ended the hearing by questioning Mr. Carlton as to the English practices. Clarence H. Mackay, head of the Postal Telegraph-Cable company, another witness, told the committee that English secret service authorities were obtaining copies of all cable messages.

Mr. Carlton indicated that other European countries took more complete control over American cable messages.

FILIPINOS NOT TO NAME CHOICE FOR NEW RULER

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

MANILA, Jan. 10.—The Philippine government will not bring pressure to bear on President Elect Harding for the selection of the next governor of the islands, according to a joint statement just issued by Manuel Quezon and Sergio Osmena, the two most influential men in the Philippine legislature.

It was decided not to express a preference, although the native government was requested to do so by Jaime C. de Veyra, the Philippine commissioner to the United States, in a recent cable wherein he said the choice had narrowed down to Herbert Hoover, W. Cameron Forbes, former governor; Newton W. Gilbert, former vice governor, and Clarence Miller.

Señor Quezon said: "Our stand has been to give Washington a free hand in its choice. All we want is that Mr. Harding send us the biggest man he can find. Whoever is chosen will receive united support from us."

Can Issue $80,000,000 in Bonds.

Another section permits the trustees to issue bonds to 5 per cent of the assessed valuation. At present the assessed value of property is one-half of the full value, which is in excess of $2,200,000,000, making the assessed valuation over $1,600,000,000. Therefore, this section permits the issuance of $80,000,000 in bonds, if the district is composed of Chicago only.

There is no provision in the bill which requires the trustees to raise the fare so that the property itself will pay its own expense. In fact the bill provides "that in no case shall the rate of fare exceed 5 cents for one person for a continuous trip in the same general direction wholly within the limits of any incorporated city or village within such transportation district."

ALDERMEN WILL HOLD HEARING ON TRACTION PLAN

Committee to Take Up Mayor's Scheme at Once.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Gov. Small yesterday "urged the general assembly promptly to enact the legislation" for Mayor Thompson's traction plan, and the curtain goes up this afternoon.

Then the local transportation committee of the city council will begin consideration of the mayor's program.

"First, we will have public hearings on the plan," announced Chairman Schwartz. "I believe that the committee is in complete accord with the object of the mayor's plan of getting the lowest possible fare—lower than 5 cents, if possible. We want to be of active assistance."

Seek Views of All.

He also said that the following will be invited to address the committee: Mayor Thompson, Corporation Counsel Ettelson, Special Counsel Cleveland, Chief Engineer Jackson, President Insull of the Commonwealth Edison company, President Blair of the surface lines, representatives of the Association of Commerce, Chicago Real Estate board, Cook County Real Estate board, City club, Woman's City club, Chicago Woman's club, the officials of Evanston, Wilmette, Winnetka, Oak Park, Forest Park, River Forest, Maywood, Cicero, and Blue Island, and prominent private citizens who have been interested in local transportation for years.

Then Chairman Schwartz desires that the committee shall engage a lawyer and an engineer to advise the committee on the plan.

Ald. Capitain, former chairman of the committee and a member of the present committee, also desires that the committee shall inquire whether the mayor's traction commission has complied with the ordinance which created it.

Holds "L" Lines Excluded.

According to his interpretation of the report of the commission, it contemplates a street car system only and does not provide for a complete local transportation system. He contends that the mayor's commission has excluded the elevated roads. If the commission has plans for a complete local transportation district, instead of street car system alone, the alderman desires to see them.

Under the bill prepared for submission to the legislature the trustees of the transportation district "may levy and collect taxes . . . the aggregate amount of which in any one year shall not exceed the sum required for the payment of the corporate expenses of such transportation district, including provision for the payment of interest on outstanding bonds and to provide an adequate sinking fund for the redemption of such bonds as they mature."

It also provides that the district, "in the discretion of the trustees, may levy such additional sum, if any, required for payment of any difference which may exist between the total receipts of said transportation district from the operation of its system or systems of local transportation, for the preceding year, and the total amount required to pay its corporate expenses, interest on bonds and sinking fund as aforesaid, and for maintenance and operation, replacements, and renewals of its said system or systems of local transportation."

SUES BATTLING NEIGHBOR FOR $25,000; GETS $1

Marcus L. Allen, manager of the Hamilton Rubber Manufacturing company at 218 North Wells street, won a damage suit against Mark Oliver yesterday. His suit was for $25,000. The jury awarded him $1.

Messrs. Allen and Oliver formerly were neighbors in Oak Park. One day, 'tis said, Mrs. Oliver attempted to use her telephone—it was on a party line—and got into a verbal mixup with Mr. Allen. He said something. She told it to her husband, and he interviewed Mr. Allen shortly afterwards. The interview resolved into fisticuffs. Mr. Allen's damage suit resulted.

BUFFALO HERD FACES KILLING BY TAME HUNTERS

Pheasantlike 'Drive' to Be Bisons' Fate Today.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Unless some emergency action is taken by government or state officials or some wealthy private citizens, the famous Antelope island buffalo herd, one of the largest in the United States, will be turneed over as targets for hunters who pay $200 a head tomorrow.

Tonight an appeal to Dr. W. O. Stillman, millionaire president of the American Humanity society, was drafted by a committee from the Salt Lake Commercial club. He is asked to put up the necessary money to preserve the herd.

For Denatured Bison Hunt.

There are 230 bison running wild on Antelope island, in the middle of Sale lake. They were introduced more than thirty years ago. Of the 26,500 acres comprising this island 20,000 acres are under lease to the Buffalo Island Live Stock company. This firm is converting the island into a breeding place for live stock. Claiming that the buffalo kill young calves and destroy property, they have offered to round up the animals for slaughter.

Salt Lake City is thronged with huntsmen, ready to be conveyed to the island tomorrow in a special boat from Saltair.

According to statistics in the office of the state game and fish commissioner, there are only 3,153 bison in the United States and Canada. The slaughter of the Antelope island herd would be equivalent to the natural increase of all the herds for the next ten years.

Third Largest in World.

The Antelope island herd is the third largest in the world. Statistics of the various herds follow:

Wichita National Bison range	80
Montana National Bison range	100
Yellowstone park	130
Canadian government preserves	1,345
Wind Cave preserve, Black hills	10
Phflip herd, Fort Pierre, S. D.	370
Antelope Island herd	230
Goodnight herd, Texas	200
Conrad herd, Montana	90
Corbin herd, New Hampshire	150
Scattered in parks and collections	428
Total	3,153

Officials of the American Bison society declare that Antelope island is an ideal buffalo range. It is mountainous in topography, contains fine natural pastures for summer and winter grazing, and is abundantly watered.

WILSON SEVERS LAST OFFICIAL LINK TO TREATY

Yankee on Ambassadors' Council to Retire.

BY GRAFTON WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—President Wilson is resigned to keeping his hands off international affairs involved in the treaty of Versailles for the remaining weeks of his administration.

Positive indication of this attitude came today when it was learned that the United States will withdraw from the council of ambassadors at Paris, representing the principal allied and associated powers. Although no formal announcement came from authoritative quarters, this withdrawal will be ordered soon.

President Wilson, it is declared, takes the view that the new administration alone can interpret what the people decided in the recent "solemn referendum" should be America's foreign policy.

Conscious of Mandate.

The overwhelming "mandate" in favor of Senator Harding, Mr. Wilson believes, must be interpreted by Mr. Harding. Mr. Wilson cannot presume to interpret it, his close associates say; consequently, he intends to withdraw the American representation, so the new administration will find foreign affairs as little involved as possible.

This is said to mean that Mr. Wilson will make no further efforts in behalf of the Versailles treaty and will leave it on his desk for Mr. Harding to dispose of.

Disclosure of the government's new attitude came today following an admission that the United States would not be represented at the forthcoming conference of allied premiers in Paris to discuss German disarmament.

Reason for New Gesture.

Aside from the general view taken by the president regarding the responsibility imposed by the American people on the forthcoming administration, the consideration upon which withdrawal from the council of ambassadors will be based was summed up here today as follows:

The council of ambassadors was set up for two main purposes: First, to deal with performance by Germany of the armistice requirements; and, second, to deal with such questions arising from the execution of the treaty as might still require treatment by the allied and associated nations.

The armistice questions have practically all been disposed of; and America participated in the deliberations concerning the execution of the peace treaty in the belief that the treaty would be ratified by the senate; but as this was refused, there is no reason to continue on the council of ambassadors.

Will Guard U. S. Interests.

In some cases where the United States has direct interest the president feels that negotiations with the allies must continue, nor does he regard the Armenian arbitration matter as coming within the category of a "hands off" policy, as that is a personal matter he undertook at the request of the league.

BLAZE WRECKS PART OF UNCLE SAM'S ARCHIVES

Records Back to 1790 Damaged.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Original records dating back to the census of 1790, the first taken, were damaged and all the original documents of the 1890 census destroyed by fire today. The blaze started from some unknown cause. It first was discovered in the basement of the commerce building. The 1920 census records, on an upper floor, were not damaged.

Other records, which "the entire wealth of the United States could not replace, because there are no duplicates," according to the chief clerk, were ruined either by fire or water.

Some war department records, treasury records, internal revenue records, and documents used at times to establish citizenship claims were among those destroyed.

Five alarms quickly brought every piece of apparatus in downtown Washington to the scene and more than twenty lines of hose completed the damage done to the records by pouring tons of water through windows into vaults where the records were kept.

During the two and a half hours which firemen fought the blaze three firemen were overcome by smoke and taken to the hospital. Among them was Frank Newman, recipient of the 1920 bravery medal.

CALIFORNIA ASKS NO TREATY GIVING JAPS CITIZENSHIP

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 10.—The legislature adopted today by unanimous vote, without reference to committee, a senate resolution asking that no treaty be made granting citizenship to Japanese, or nullifying the provisions of the new anti alien land law.

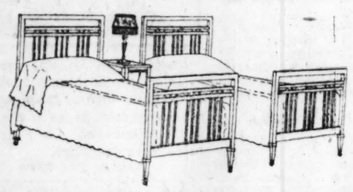

Ignore Japanese Consul.

Harlingen, Tex., Jan 10.—[Special.]—Mayor S. A. Thompson and American Legion officers this morning decided to ignore the inquiry of the Japanese consul at Chicago as to the Japanese situation here. The feeling is that if the Japanese government wishes any investigation it should address the federal government.

The Okuma brothers, whose arrival started the dispute, have received an offer to take land at Alvin, Tex., and also in Mexico. They may go to one of these places instead of returning to California.

Quick Relief From Constipation

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

DE VALERA SAYS IRELAND ENTERED NO BERLIN PLOT

Denies British "White Paper" Charges.

DUBLIN, Jan. 10.—[By the Associated Press.]—Eamonn De Valera, the Irish republican leader, broke his silence today with a formal statement vigorously denying the alleged German-Irish plot against Great Britain and attacking the government's "white paper" issued Saturday concerning such a plot.

"There was no such thing as this German plot in 1918," says the statement. "I have asserted this in America time after time. I now repeat it here.

Speaks "With Authority."

"From July, 1917, I was intimately in touch with all the major activities both of the Sinn Fein political organization and the Irish volunteers, and so I speak with knowledge and authority. Lord Wimborne, then lord lieutenant of Ireland—not Mr. Lloyd George—told the truth on this matter.

"The general character of this 'report,' its total untrustworthiness, and its obvious purpose to bring to play on the side of the authors of the present military frightfulness in Ireland all the prejudices and hatreds of the past war can be inferred from the portions that have reference to me personally.

"For example:

"Firstly, the document on 'army organization' attributed to me and said to be in my handwriting, is not in my handwriting, as they could easily have seen. Further, it was neither composed by me nor composed at my suggestion, nor was it on my person.

"I suggest that representative American or continental press men ask Lloyd George to let them see the original document or a photographic copy of it; it won't need an expert to decide that the writing is not mine. When that is done I will give a full history of the document, supported by proofs that will be conclusive.

"Standard of Plotting."

"The way the British cabinet has impressed this document into its service might be taken as a standard to illustrate how they manufacture such plots.

"Secondly, the press has already commented on the fact that although names were given without reserve throughout the report, a letter found in my possession is referred to as from a known member of the Irish Republican army. It will be interesting to know the reason for this.

"This letter was handed to me while presiding at a meeting a few hours before my arrest. [It might have come from Lloyd George himself or from the original discoverer of the German plot—Sir Edward Carson.] I glanced through the contents and later—although the document seemed of no particular consequence, being, if genuine, nothing more than the writer's own views on the situation as regards conscription and steps that were being taken to meet it—as a safeguard to the writer from the attentions of the British, should they get the letter, I pinched off the signature. This can be seen if the original is examined.

"Communications" Document.

"Thirdly, as to the document on 'communications.' It was given to me as a basis from which I might start to work up a system of communications which was needed by the Mansion house conference in connection with their work, in view of the threatened enforcement of conscription.

"In all probability I would alter it so much that the system when actually set up would have but slight relation to the scheme as outlined in this proposal. In so far as this whole report has reference to incidents subsequent to the 17th of July, I know that it is simply a piece of the same sheer audacity in lying of which the present British ministers have given evidence respecting Ireland in their public statements day by day—statements which were designed to deceive their own people no less than the peoples of foreign nations.

"We who know the truth and see how deliberately these gentlemen distort it do not forget this fact when estimating the probable honesty of so-called offers and proposals emanating from them."

AS IN DAYS OF AULD LANG SYNE

The home folks of Morning Sun, O., came to Chicago yesterday to visit Cyrena Van Gordon, prima donna of the Chicago grand opera; to hear her sing, and to pay tribute to her. Here they are shown gathered in the studio of Mme. Louise Dotti, the songbird's former teacher, at 1201 North State street. Miss Van Gordon, at the piano, has just been singing "Rock of Ages" and all the other old favorites with the members of the choir of the Morning Sun Presbyterian church. She once was a member of this choir. Miss Van Gordon's mother is at her left in the picture. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

REBELS JOIN FORCES

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Rebel forces, which have been hiding in the hills around Dublin for many weeks, succeeded last night in uniting forces, despite the vigilance of the military, and for several hours operated in the country around Dublin.

Only one skirmish was reported today by the Irish officer, and this came when a motor car containing two officers and the wife of one of them was ambushed this morning on the Charlemont bridge, a mile from the center of Dublin.

Try to Shoot Woman.

Eight men opened fire from both sides of the road, one of them jumping on the running board and firing point blank at the woman.

One officer was slightly wounded, but although the woman's clothes were pierced twice by bullets, she was unhurt. The body of the car was riddled with bullet holes.

Three bridges in the territory surrounding Dublin were destroyed by the rebels last night and several roads were obstructed. The military soon arrived on the scene of action, however, and dispersed the band. No casualties were reported.

Seize Arms in Raid.

Early this morning the military raided a house in Ellenfield, a Dublin suburb, and arrested four men. Six service revolvers, three service bayonets, and a quantity of ammunition were found.

A message received from Dublin tonight says it is reported that Sinn Fein candidates will present themselves at their Ulster constituencies for election to the northern parliament under the new home rule act.

Before the departure today of a steamer from Cork to Fishguard police appeared and trouble arose, during which shots were fired and a man driving cattle to the ship was wounded. It has not been learned why the police were present.

A mail car was held up between Rosscommon and Athleague last night by armed, masked men. The mails were taken, but the letters were delivered later marked "Censored by the Irish Republican army."

LIST 53,000 "OUTRAGES."

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—An amazing record of atrocities charged against the British in Ireland since June 1916, setting forth more than 53,000 outrages, including murder, arson, the destruction of creameries, and the suppression of newspapers, was filed here today with the American commission investigating conditions in Ireland by Frank P. Walsh, counsel for the American commission on Irish independence.

The statement recites that more than 260 murders have been committed in the four and a half years, and that there have been almost 40,000 raids on private houses.

The names of all those killed in Ireland in this period are given in the statement. With few exceptions, the circumstances surrounding their deaths, it is shown, have been published in newspapers.

Acting Secretary of State Davis today indorsed the opinion reported to him by Frederick K. Nielsen, solicitor of the department, on the case of Daniel O'Callaghan, the stowaway lord mayor of Cork, in which Mr. Nielsen advised the secretary that there is no ground on which the state department can make an exception in favor of O'Callaghan to its ruling regarding deportation of aliens arriving without passports.

Hiss Alderman Who Asks Benches at Street Corners

Hisses interrupted Ald. William R. O'Toole yesterday when he began to speak before the council streets and alleys committee on his recommendation that 3,000 benches be installed at outlying street corners. The proposed ordinance would give a monopoly of the right to install the benches to the Con-Cotta Service company in return for payment of $1 per bench. Representatives of several civic organizations and the real estate boards declared such benches would be a loafing place for undesirables. No action was taken on the proposed ordinance.

FATHER TO HEAR ROSA RAISA SING AFTER 9 YEARS

Mme. Rosa Raisa threw her arms about the neck of her father last night in her suite in the Congress hotel. He directed an affectionate volley of greetings at her, and she replied as volubly, but the poor reporter could only gasp. The endearments were spoken in Yiddish-Russian, Polish, and German.

Mme. Raisa's father, Hershel Burstein, came to New York from his home in Bialystok, Poland, last summer. This is his first visit to Chicago. He has not heard his daughter sing for nine years, but tonight in Orchestra hall she will sing three songs in Yiddish she has written for him.

"You see, my father does not speak or understand English," she said. "And I wanted to sing to him, so for a long time I have been working on these songs. My father is going to be an American citizen. He says he likes America and that he likes the hurry and scurry of Chicago."

GRAND DUCHESS' $50,000 PENDANT PUTS HIM IN CELL

New York, Jan. 10.—While attempting to sell a $50,000 diamond and emerald pendant, which he said was the property of the former Grand Duchess Olga of Russia, Anatole Camliouhine, claiming to be a member of Russian nobility, was arrested in Brooklyn today.

Camliouhine told customs officers he came to the United States at the bidding of the former grand duchess, who had been unable to obtain money in Athens, Greece, with which to buy food for hundreds of fellow Russian refugees.

Arraigned before a United States commissioner, Camliouhine exhibited the pendant. It was set with fifty diamonds and two large emeralds. He was held for investigation in $5,000 bail, charged with having violated the customs laws by failing to declare the jewel for duty when he entered the country.

CROWDER URGES MENOCAL TO ACT AND SAVE CUBA

Bank Crisis Near; Port Badly Congested.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.]

HAVANA, Jan. 10.—Gen. Enoch Crowder had a two hour conference with President Menocal at the palace this afternoon in which President Wilson's special envoy pointedly urged immediate initiation of steps to solve the economic, financial, and political problems embarrassing the republic, in default of which the United States would be compelled to intervene under the Platt amendment.

Having listened to explanations of the island's predicament, offered by various factions, Gen. Crowder advised the president of the necessity of action stabilizing business conditions and permitting the abolishment of the moratorium.

The proposals under consideration include practically refinancing the Cuban government by American banks. If President Menocal accepts the plan the moratorium will be lifted without delay.

Objects to Terms of N. Y. Banks.

President Menocal's chief objection to the pending proposition is that the terms of the loan of from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000, offered by New York bankers, are too onerous. He contends only a one or two year loan is needed and that available security is so ample that not more than 5 per cent interest is warranted. The New York bankers' terms are for a ten year loan at 8 per cent.

While these negotiations were in progress depositors were besieging the National Bank of Cuba, the government depositary, which is one of three banks in difficulty. This bank for several days has been paying to depositors 10 per cent of their deposits, though it is generally understod that government officials, politicians, and commercial houses with influence have been permitted to withdraw practically all their deposits.

Tragedy That Impends.

Notice of the formal suspension of this bank is expected daily. The victims will be savings depositors with $60,000,000 of deposits, and taxpayers who will be called upon to foot the treasury deficit occasioned by the governmenet deposit of $23,000,000 in this institution.

It is charged by the Gomez faction that this deposit was made in defiance of the law limiting government bank deposits to $20,000,000 in a single institution, and that the government officials were getting a rakeoff of high interest on this fund.

One of the reasons for declaring a moratorium was the desire to protect this institution and the Spanish bank, which also was insolvent. These banks suffered a loss of $45,000,000 in loans on sugar collateral on a basis of 18 cents a pound. The security now is worth only from 4 to 5 cents a pound.

President Menocal desires to continue the moratorium until arrangements can be made for American banks to take over the institutions in trouble. R. L. Farnham of the National City bank, and several other New York bankers are here but fail to find the proposition financially attractive. They agree with Albert Rathbone that the insolvent banks are a total loss and that it is folly to postpone reckoning by means of a moratorium which seriously hampers solvent business.

The solvent banks expect to sustain runs when the moratorium is lifted, but they have been preparing for this eventuality and profess themselves ready to meet heavy withdrawals. The American banks are rendering aid to the solvent banks for this purpose—on profitable terms, of course.

Port Congestion Serious Factor.

Relief of port congestion is another matter which Gen. Crowder discussed with President Menocal. Demurrage charges are rolling up on these cargoes.

At the height of the orgy of sugar speculation thousands of Cubans became suddenly enriched—so they thought—and ordered millions of dollars' worth of supplies and luxuries from the United States. Before the ships arrived, however, the sugar bubble burst, the millionaires found themselves broke, and they could not pay for their importations. This accentuated the disorganization of business and the port congestion. Now, however, the volume of imports has fallen off sharply and still is decreasing.

DIGS FOR SLAYER'S "WAGES OF SIN"; POLICE SEIZE HIM

Greenwich, Conn., Jan. 10.—Despite a permit from one of the selectmen to dig for buried treasure, a man who claims to be "heir" to $150,000 buried here in 1916 by a former fellow prisoner in Sing Sing prison at Ossining, N. Y., was arrested here today while digging.

The man, whose name is withheld by the police, said his Sing Sing comrade, who died in prison not long ago, told him the money was given him for murdering a man in New York City.

When arrestsed the man had a paper in his possession showing where he might locate the money, $50,000 of which he said was in gold. The police tonight are guarding the spot where the digging took place.

MICHIGAN AUTO CITIES SHOWING SIGNS OF SPEED

Factories Are Enlarging Working Forces.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Conditions in the auto industry in Detroit and the other "automobile cities" of Michigan are showing daily improvement.

From Cadillac came the report that the Acme Motor Truck plant added to its force today. The Buick plant resumed operations today after a three weeks' shutdown while inventory was being taken and equipment changes made. The factories will operate on a part time schedule which was placed in effect before the closing in December.

Studebaker Plant Reopens.

Plant No. 3 of the Studebaker corporation, Detroit, resumed operations today with nearly 2,000 employés. The Hupp Motor Car company already has more than 600 men working and is adding to this number daily. The several plants of General Motors are slowly increasing production with a daily increase in the pay roll.

The plant of the Continental Motors, closed since Dec. 22, probably will resume during the week. It is reported that this company plans to operate on a 50 per cent production schedule. It normally employs 6,000.

After being closed since Dec. 24, the Studebaker corporation of Canada resumed operation Monday at Walkerville with 100 men.

Lawrence Mills Cut Wages.

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 10.—The public attitude is against maintaining the wages of textile workers at the high war time rates, William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen company, said tonight in reference to the reduction of 22½ per cent in the fifty mills of that company which was announced today. This cut brought into the lower wage levels of the textile trade in New England the last important manufacturing interest involved.

Addressing the overseers of the American Woolen company's four mills in this city, President Wood said the decision to readjust wages was reached "with a full regard for what is just" to the company's workers.

THIS WAY, BEAU BRUMMELS!

Between 300 and 400 garments, the creations of tailors and designers from every part of the United States and Canada, are being brought to Chicago for the style show of the Merchant-Tailor Designers' association at the Congress hotel, Jan. 18 to 21.

THE BANK OF KINDNESS

Draw a Check on It for the Unfortunate.

BY REV. G. A. MAC WHORTER.

MORE than $8,000 was realized at a joint charity ball given for the starving children of Germany last Saturday evening at the Chicago Lincoln club, 108 Germania place, under the auspices of the Lincoln club and the American Unity club. The proceeds are to be divided between the American Welfare association for German children and the Hoover fund (European relief council).

Here is a check on the Bank of Kindness:

"To the president of the Bank of Kindness: Please apply the inclosed $50 to the purchase through the Hoover fund of the lives of five starving children in Europe. The principal, in the form of human life, can remain on deposit; the dividends, in the form of the right to live in happiness and the opportunity to help others when the call may come, I donate to the world. Your institution is a pioneer in a worthy field. Your success will mean the opening of other 'banks.' Therefore, I wish you a career of great prosperity, because the dividends you distribute will make the world happier, and a happier world is a better world for all of us. Faithfully yours,

"MRS. O. E. LANGHAM.

"Palmer house, Chicago, Jan. 10, 1921."

President Wilson has issued a proclamation appealing to the American people to help the millions of Chinese famine sufferers through the American committee for the China famine relief fund, of which Thomas W. Lamont of New York is chairman. The famine affects five provinces with a population of 85,000,000. According to Charles R. Crane, United States minister to China, 45,000,000 are in actual want and more than 15,000 are dying daily.

Mr. Crane says $1 will save a life for a month and 3 cents will save a life for a day. Save a life in China! Every minute counts!

Fire Department Must Live Up to Its Dignity

Rank has kept Chicago's assistant fire marshals and battalion chiefs from attending drill. This was disclosed yesterday before the council finance committee.

"Not one of the assistant marshals or battalion chiefs attends drill because none deign to take orders from an inferior, or even an equal. You see Battalion Chief Carmody is in charge of the school," Business Manager John F. Fullerton said.

The committee decided to rectify this state of affairs by creating the rank of drillmaster with a salary of $5,000 a year. Only battalion chiefs who receive $3,500 will be eligible for the position.

INDUSTRIAL SKY CLEARING HERE, SURVEY SHOWS

Factories Add to Forces as Slump Passes.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

Indications that the industrial slump has reached the bottom and that the upward climb is slowly starting are given in a survey of unemployment in the Chicago area completed yesterday by the Association of Commerce.

It shows that during the first ten days of January there has been no increase in the number of jobless. Curtailment in some plants has been offset by expansion in others, and the index number of employment stands just about where it was at the close of 1920.

The statisticians say the survey has shown manufacturers in many lines, large and small, preparing for a gradual swing back toward "normal" production by putting on a few men at a time as fast as increased orders come in.

They declare the prevailing sentiment disclosed by the inquiry is that the worst has been passed and that the upward movement has actually begun.

New Industries Seek Entry.

One thing they regard as significant is that within the last week they have had the first inquiries in months from outside manufacturers desirous of opening factories in Chicago. Not many of them, it is true, so far, but for an extended period such inquiries have been as scarce as hen's teeth.

The estimate of the association is that in the Chicago district the number of unemployed in industries on Jan. 1 was somewhere between 56,000 and 79,000. This does not include those on part time nor those out of work in white collar callings, such as clerks and stenographers. It is based on an estimate that in the Chicago area the number of industrial workers is about 500,000, which is perhaps a trifle low, as the government estimate in 1914 was 445,000. The census figures are not yet out.

Builders Hardest Hit.

Wide fluctuations among various industries were shown by the survey, which covered large establishments in representative lines. The building trades are running at only 25 per cent capacity, meaning three idle persons for every one with a job. At the stock yards 15 per cent of unemployment was given as an average. The garment trades were figured as running at about two-thirds normal time. The furniture industry was given as operating at less than 50 per cent normal capacity. Some machinery shops were running full blast; others were 20 to 40 per cent off. Steel and iron plants, too, varied greatly, some reporting that they were running full handed, others that they were cut to 35 or 40 per cent of usual force.

In many industries great differences were reported between plants. Some plumbing factories, for example, have increased their forces, others have decreased them, but are planning to work up to full force within two months.

In electrical goods the Western Electric company, with 27,000 employés, has steadily increased its force, while some others have reduced 30 to 35 per cent. In the manufacturing business, exclusive of the building trades, the association's experts estimate unemployment ranges on an average somewhere between 5 and 15 per cent, far lower than in eastern industrial centers.

City Plans to Borrow $2,500,000 for Pay Roll

The city plans to borrow money from itself to meet its $2,500,000 January pay roll. City Controller Harding tomorrow will ask the city council's permission to give City Treasurer Stuckart $2,500,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness to be redeemed out of taxes, in return for the same amount of cash taken from sinking funds.

FIXING OF PRICES ON LUMBER IS CHARGED BY U. S.

Edward Hines and Other Dealers Accused.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Coincident today with the submission to congress of a Federal Trade commission report, charging price fixing and a division of business in Chicago through an association of lumber dealers, came an announcement from the department of justice that an investigation of the whole building situation in the United States is under way.

"Prompt and vigorous" action was promised under the Sherman anti-trust law if violations warranting such a course were discovered.

The general inquiry by the department of justice is based chiefly thus far on the revelations regarding the "building trust" in New York.

Scope of Two Inquiries.

While the department of justice is looking into the lumber situation with particular emphasis on the yellow pine industry of the south, the trade commission inquiry as reported to congress dealt largely with Chicago as the focal point of the lumber industry. That report was made without recommendation, and probably will be used chiefly for a basis of amendments to the revenue laws, laws on elimination of competition, control of prices and production, restriction of reforestation, and the like.

Besides referring to the alleged activities of the Chicago Retail Lumber Dealers' association, the trade commission report contains charges as to the activities of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, with headquarters at Chicago, and also as to those of ten regional lumber associations scattered throughout the United States.

Edward Hines Is Named.

The name of Edward Hines, head of the Edward Hines Lumber company of Chicago, the largest company of its kind in the world, appears frequently in the report. He is accused of repeated efforts to bring about higher prices to avert price cuts.

The commission says there are forty-five to fifty members of the Chicago association and they are supplied with average costs of doing business and daily reports showing sales.

It is charged that each concern is assigned a quota of business, that of Hines' company 25.22 per cent, and a percentage of the money from "overshipment" goes to the treasurer for reimbursement of those who "undership."

Activities of Mr. Hines, as reported by the commission, deal mostly with the Southern Pine association, one of the regional organizations. Mr. Hines is credited with writing a letter Dec. 9, 1916, to M. B. Nelson of the Long Bell Lumber company that he just had a conference "with a prominent official of the steel people" about conditions in general, and was told the steel people were "passing on to the ultimate consumer not alone the added cost of doing business, but also an additional profit."

Yellow Pine as Basis.

"Conservatively speaking," Mr. Hines' letter is quoted as adding, "I think all sides now are earnestly hoping for a legal relief whereby we may be permitted to get together in groups and take care of our business along the lines compatible with conditions. Our conditions show clearly that the days of individualism are gone, and we are badly in need of the same treatment as the steel people were successful in having administered legally.

"It seems as if the entire lumber industry looks to yellow pine; if the price of yellow pine can be maintained, everything else apparently can take care of itself, and there should be some intelligent exchange of ideas between the yellow pine people and especially the fir manufacturers.

"The trouble is the lumbermen can apparently not get into their minds what their product is really worth compared with everything that comes in competition with it."

Deplores Price Differences.

The commission declares that Dec. 20, 1916, Mr. Hines wrote to Secretary Rhodes of the Southern Pine association, calling attention to the fact that prices north of the great lakes were much higher than those south of them. The report quotes him as adding:

"This awful difference is almost criminal, and nothing else can come in that territory in competition. I tried some time ago to have Mr. Dowman increase the price of cypress, but was unsuccessful, he stating that he had to keep the price as it was to offset the price on other lath."

Following a conference of lumbermen at Memphis Oct. 23, 1917, Mr. Hines is credited with preparing an office memorandum for his sales manager, W. B. Van Landingham, as follows:

"Confidentially, regarding the Memphis meeting, it was surprising on a careful diagnosis of the situation how every one appreciated that they were selling lumber for less than cost of getting it out and warranted every one advancing. I am confident that yellow pine will be advanced $2 or $3 per thousand. A committee was appointed to go to Washington to raise prices to the government. Keep this to yourself and consider it strictly confidential."

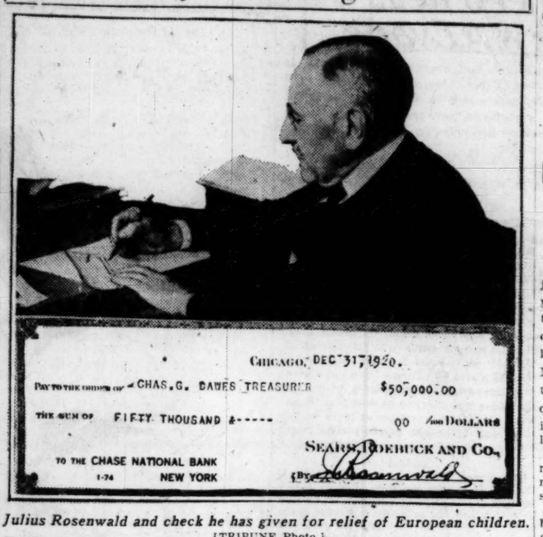

"Courage Greater than Caution."

About this same time President Keith of the Southern Pine association wrote a letter in which, commenting on the activities of Mr. Hines, he is quoted as saying: "Mr. Hines has only one fault, his courage is greater than his caution."

The most recent communication purporting to come from Mr. Hines is under date of Feb. 28, 1920, and addressed to E. D. Griggs of the St. Paul and Tacoma Lumber company, Tacoma, Wash. It is a telegram, in which Mr. Hines is quoted as saying:

"Very confidentially, my associate, now in California, wired for my opinion about possibility of taking action as evidenced by your inquiry. I wired as follows: 'General lumber prices today no higher and many cases not so high as all commodities that come in competition with lumber or where used. Farming community receiving higher prices for their products relatively than lumber selling for, and never more able financially to buy lumber. . . . Think would be serious mistake to offer reduce prices, but am of opinion it would show broad gauged policy to stop further advance, but not lower prices. Trade unprecedented for actual consumption.'"

$50,000 for Starving Kiddies

Julius Rosenwald and check he has given for relief of European children.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Having obtained a six day extension of time in which to obtain subscriptions of $500,000, the amount still needed to complete Chicago's $1,000,000 quota for European children's relief, the committee yesterday began a "last minute drive" for the amount. Julius Rosenwald has presented the Chicago council, of which Charles G. Dawes of the Central Trust company is treasurer, with $50,000.

"It is a child's right to live," said Mr. Rosenwald. "The lives of millions of children in Europe depend on the generosity of the American people. Ten dollars would assure the life of one of these little children."

BUILDERS READY TO LIFT BAN ON OUTSIDE WARES

Move Forced by Federal Probe of Conditions.

Action to revoke section 3 of the joint agreement of the millmen, carpenters, and contractors, which practically bars building materials made outside of Chicago from the local market, will be taken by officials of the Millmen's association in the near future. Federal authorities investigating charges that a building monopoly exists in Chicago made this prediction last night.

Fear that the federal investigators might ask indictments under the Sherman act unless this action is taken is said to have forced the decision.

Similar action probably will be taken by officials of the contractor organizations, one official predicted.

Section Passed in 1918.

This section, which government investigators say has raised building costs in Chicago, was passed in 1918. It provided that "there shall be no restrictions against the use of any manufactured material except nonunion and prison made articles."

In some cases, it is said, nonunion articles were allowed to enter Chicago and here stamped union made so they could be sold at profiteering prices.

It is estimated the agreement has cost Chicago renters between $2,000,000 and $5,000,000 in increased apartment rentals because of higher building costs.

Indictments Possible.

Several officials from all three parties to the contract have been examined by the special federal grand jury probing building conditions. Several indictments are expected.

North Shore Interurban Asks Increase in Fares

Officials of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad yesterday asked the interstate commerce commission to raise the road's passenger rates for intrastate traffic from 2 to 3 cents a mile and from 2.7 cents to 3 cents for interstate business.

FEW CHANGES AT N. Y. AUTO SHOW; MORE COMFORTS

New York, Jan. 10.—[Special.]—While the twenty-first national automobile show, now under full swing at the Grand Central palace, is larger and more comprehensive than any in the industry's history, changes in designs of cars, their tonneaus, motors, and chasses are few.

The public comes to the show and sees the same general designs with added luxuries and comforts.

Probably the most marked change in design is seen in the Pierce-Arrow. The radiator has been raised, the entire tonneau "straight lined," as the salesman expressed it, the steering wheel shifted to the left side, and the controls installed in the center.

There are few changes in the Cole, the Peerless, the Cadillac, the National, the Locomobile, the McFarlan, the Marmon, and the Stutz.

One of the features of the show is the hood of the Franklin. It has been raised, and the effect is to give the car "straight" stream lines.

The Dort people are showing a new "family of four." The wheel base has been lengthened three inches.

Cars being exhibited in the national show for the first time are the Dupont, Friend, Hanson, Hatfield, Lafayette, Lincoln, Lorraine, Noma, and Piedmont.

New cars shown in hotel lobbies are the Ace, Kenworthy, Garden, Parenti, and Ferris.

BLOND NERVOUS? ULTRA-VIOLET SUN RAYS BLAMED

Husband, is your blonde wife temperamental and nervous? Wife, is your light-haired husband hard to get along with? If they are, don't blame him or her. Blame the ultra-violet rays of the sun, then go out and buy a pair of amber-tinted glasses for the patient, or move north.

This was the advice given yesterday by R. C. Augustine, president of the Optometric association, who is attending the annual convention of the Illinois Society of Optometrists, in session at the Hotel Sherman.

"Blondes were not made to live in this climate," said Mr. Augustine. "Their eyes can't stand the glare."

The New Richardson-Method Guarantees

Better Linoleum Laying

Linoleum floors are only as good as they are laid. The Richardson-Method of cementing Linoleum firmly down over a layer of special deadening felt insures a permanent floor, one that will neither buckle nor creep, but will give added years of satisfactory service.

Applying paste to floor (whether wood, concrete or tile). Deadening felt is then laid.

Rolling out deadening felt, thereby removing any unevenness and causing felt to adhere to floor.

Applying Richardson cement to felt. Linoleum is then stretched over the felt, rolled and trimmed.

Waterproofing the seams with Richardson's special cement. This prevents damage by water, thus lengthening the life of the goods.

Advantages of the Richardson-Method of Better Linoleum Laying

1. The Linoleum at once becomes a solid, permanent, resilient floor. It cannot buckle, bulge or stretch.
2. The felt foundation, which is pasted to the floor, absorbs all expansion or contraction that may take place in the wood or concrete base.
3. The felt layer makes the Linoleum more durable, thereby lengthening the life of the Linoleum floor.
4. The possible damage from water when laid by other methods is eliminated when laid by the Richardson-Method.
5. It is sanitary because it is non-absorbent, easily cleaned, smooth and free from cracks.
6. Economical both in first cost and in the constant savings in maintenance expense as compared with other methods of laying and types of floors.
7. In most cases the work is completed in one trip, making it unnecessary to return and disturb the room.
8. Linoleum when laid by the Richardson-Method can be removed without difficulty or damage should the necessity arise.

Recommended—

During the past eight months we have laid thousands of yards of Linoleum by this method in

Offices, Stores, Hospitals,
Residences, Billiard Halls,

We will gladly furnish the names of any of our customers who have expressed their desire to recommend this method.

THERE ARE NO FOOL-PROOF INSTITUTIONS.

The fate of Gen. Crowder's patent scheme for making democracy work in Cuba ought to do a little toward weakening the undue confidence we Americans have in machinery. Machinery worship is our weakness. We are so proud of our institutions that we ignore the fact that what is workable with us is not necessarily workable with other peoples. Our naïve assumption is that we are in possession of generally applicable prescriptions for good government, and all that is needed by any people suffering pains or disorders is to try the American pharmacopoeia.

But the experience of mankind does not support this. Our notions of the efficacy of popular elections are ingenuous. Mr. Wilson really thought that the Mexican problem could be solved by the taking of votes from millions of peons. Gen. Crowder applied himself to the Cuban problem and worked out a beautiful scheme which probably would have worked fairly well in most districts of America. It does not change the situation in Cuba.

There is no fool-proof machinery. Real political institutions are the outgrowth of the experience and character of a nation. They work just so far as the intelligence and character of the people will permit them to work, and no farther. A people may have imposed upon them institutions inferior to them. They will in due time destroy them and make their own proper tools of government. A people may have imposed upon them institutions superior to them. They will pervert or ignore them.

The notion that the people of Cuba are ready for institutions evolved by the Anglo-Saxon genius through many centuries is in our opinion very foolish. Our control will be necessary for a time long enough to permit the Cuban to evolve his own forms of social and political organization or to be absorbed or abolished by a race more capable of civilized progress than he may prove to be.

But meantime let us in America try to realize that character is everything and that institutions are only what a people puts into them.

THE UNIVERSITY AS A WEALTH PRODUCER.

President Kinley of the state university, in an open letter to THE TRIBUNE published on this page Monday, calls attention to the public service accomplished by the institution apropos of its request to the assembly for $5,250,000 a year for the ensuing biennium.

The letter, we think, is especially interesting because it emphasizes services not much considered by the general public, which thinks of universities as places of general or special education for the fortunate few. The public knows little of the work of research going on and of the profitable results of applied science brought forth. Dr. Kinley cites a few of these, such as the development of a new variety of wheat, which on a five year average has yielded six bushels an acre more than the existing variety. Through soil investigations the yield of corn, which was declining, is now increasing. Experiments in the coking of low grade coal will make available coal hitherto of small value or worthless. Each of these results and others of similar character mean a great increase in the total material wealth of the state and of the nation.

It is fair for the assembly and the public to remember this when the university asks for funds for its maintenance and expansion. Five millions seems a large sum. It is a large sum, which we must all help to pay, directly or indirectly, if it is granted. Times are hard just now, prices are down, taxes are very heavy, credit is strained. So the taxpayer eyes the university's appeal dubiously and the assembly wonders if five million a year isn't a lot of money to put on "higher education."

This is where the assembly and the public had better think twice and think especially of what the university is simply as a producer of wealth. Take the wheat discovery, for example. Last year Illinois put 2,400,000 acres in wheat. Say we run 2,000,000 on an average. Six bushels more per acre means 12,000,000 more bushels in the total yield and at $1.75 a bushel that would mean $21,000,000 a year.

Make any reasonable discount you please on this estimate and yet the university would have out of this one item of its many sided service to the state an enormous margin to its credit in terms of cold cash alone.

We don't propose here to go into any other phase of the university question. There are many phases, but while we are talking of budgets let us talk in terms of material profit so as to get rid of the idea that the university is a material burden on the people. If its results in concrete wealth production, through scientific discovery, mechanical invention, and training of experts essential in the industries, were credited to it, its balance against the state would be such as to make its budget demands look very modest indeed.

The university, in short, need not go to Springfield as a mendicant, petitioning for aid in the name of any lofty or impalpable good. It can present itself as a great wealth producer, to starve which would be not economy but waste.

HOPE FOR OUR DIPLOMACY.

A Washington dispatch announces that the diplomatic service of the United States will be reorganized and brought up to a high state of efficiency by President Harding. The world will agree that there is room for such improvement.

Diplomatic posts under the United States government have too long been handed out solely as rewards for political favors, with utter disregard of the qualifications or lack of qualifications of the man for the task. Our representatives abroad have too often become social climbers and toadies instead of diplomats, our national interests have suffered, and our private enterprises abroad have been handicapped.

Just as citizens who enter public life in this country study politics rather than statesmanship, citizens who become our representatives in foreign lands study social graces rather than diplomacy. Where diplomacy ought to be a career, it is an incident to many of our diplomats. It gives them an opportunity to marry their daughters to foreign noblemen and to have their own vanity flattered by the clever foreign statesmen, trained in the school of diplomacy, and conscious that the purpose of diplomatic intercourse is to get something of value for one's own country.

CUT IN COAL CUTS ALL COSTS.

The announced reduction of from $1 to $2 in the retail price of coal will mean a saving of a few dollars to every householder who must buy a few tons annually. It will mean a saving of hundreds of dollars to the small factory owner who buys a few hundred tons. It will mean a saving of thousands to the large manufacturer who buys thousands of tons. It will mean a saving of millions to the American public.

This is the coal age. Coal is one of the most essential if not the most essential raw material in use today. It is a fundamental feature of modern civilization. It enters into almost every commodity in common use. It smelts our iron ore, makes our steel, transports all our materials and supplies, furnishes power for the manufacture of everything from rat traps to automobiles, provides light and heat, and in a thousand and one other ways contributes to the advantages—and the expenses—of modern life.

In the latter point is the saving of millions of dollars to the American people through a decrease in price of coal. It means that when industry is generally revived it will be able to resume operation at a substantial reduction of one basic item of expense. It even offers hope for a speedier resumption of industry because of that reduction in costs.

Considering the essential character of coal and the advantages of a reasonable price, one is inclined to wonder why a modern economic system, the fruit of centuries of development, tolerates the restriction of its activities through restriction in the distribution of such an essential either by price irregularities or transportation and production irregularities.

But business, industry, and domestic economy are embarrassed almost every year by some phase of the coal problem. If we cannot remove this annual embarrassment we can at least be thankful for the moment in which there seems to be both adequate supply and a tendency toward reasonable prices. Perhaps some day a system may be worked out where this happy situation will be the rule instead of the exception.

A PRACTICAL HELP TO HOUSING.

The United States department of labor has given out figures on the cost of living in eight representative American cities, placing the increase in the cost of housing since 1914 at 49.5. Those unfortunate Chicagoans who have already started search for a new home to be occupied on May 1 probably will say the government figures are not high enough by half. However that may be, it will be realized that the housing shortage is such a serious reality that any agency which will help to provide against it must command consideration.

The Chicago Housing association is one such agency. Organized by a group of the leading business men of Chicago, and with more than a score of nationally known names on its list of officers, directors, and committees, the association has under way a program which has already won attention throughout the country. It has offered a practical solution of the housing problem, limited only by its resources.

The association has built and sold at cost on easy payments 175 modern homes in the neighborhood of Eighty-eighth street and Michigan avenue. It has not only provided homes at reasonable cost for men with families, but it has improved the value of those men and families to the community by making them property owners interested in the best interests of the city. Its policy is one of improved citizenship as well as improved housing.

Its work is limited by the limitation of its funds. Houses and lots sold on a payment plan which covers twenty years require considerable capital to finance. The good work of the association can be extended only as its capital is extended. For this purpose it now offers $900,000 worth of bonds.

The cause is worthy of support. There is no moral risk. As to the financial risk, we may encroach upon the department of the Investors' Guide sufficiently to remark that the stockholders include J. Ogden Armour, Julius Rosenwald, Louis F. Swift, Benjamin J. Rosenthal, Thomas E. Wilson, Edward Morris, William Wrigley Jr., Albert D. Lasker, and Frederic W. Upham. It has their support. It will succeed. The broader and more rapid its success can be made the easier will be the ordinary flat hunter's search for a new home.

Editorial of the Day

AS TO "THE TRUE SITUATION IN RUSSIA."

[From the New York World.]

For a hundred years it has always been easy to get up a meeting in New York to denounce the United States government, and such gatherings are now bigger than ever. Fully 6,000 people in Madison Square Garden Sunday night "booed" against the deportation of L. C. A. K. Martens and applauded the customary statement that the "capitalistic press" keeps the people in the dark about the "true situation" in that paradise of the new freedom, Russia.

Such complainants should know, and probably do, that the press of all countries would gladly spend large sums to get news out of Russia if it were possible. The last correspondent sent by the World to that country has not for some time been heard from, and it is not certainly known even whether she is alive. The World has long been trying to communicate with Emma Goldman to obtain her uncensored report on the "true situation," but without success. The people are "in the dark"—but the darkness is the shadow of soviet tyranny, whose first care was to suppress utterly the freedom of the press in Russia itself.

The only people who can get anything out of Russia are those who happen to meet the favor of the bolshevist autocrats. Even they cannot send out the news, but must wait until they reach a free country before they write their findings, which, in consequence, are always weeks, if not months, behind the events.

Russia is now the most interesting and the most tantalising news center in the whole world. That the news is not coming out is not the fault of a press which, capitalistic or otherwise, would be extremely glad to get it. The "soviet republic" works in the darkness of a cloud of its own making.

Fanny Price, Elizabeth Bennet, and Anne (we forget her last name) are three of the dearest girls in fiction.

"Huh!" sezze, "I wouldn't win the booby prize, but I can tell you who would. It's old Sam Hewitt down at McLean. NOT all those who saw the marionette show in our village the other day may be acquainted with the following:

M. Signoret's Marionettes.

(Anatole France, "La Vie Litteraire.")

If I must speak my whole mind, actors spoil comedy for me. I mean good actors. I might perhaps come to terms with the other sort, but decidedly I cannot endure excellent actors such as are to be seen at the Comédie Française. Their talent is too great: it overwhelms everything. There is nothing but them. Their personality effaces the work they represent. They are important. I would like an actor only to be important when he has genius. I dream of masterpieces played in a slap-dash style in barns by strolling players. . . .

The marionette is august: she emerges from the sanctuary. The marionette, or mariole, was originally a little Virgin Mary, a pious image. And the Rue de Paris where these figures were formerly sold was called the Rue des Mariettes or des Marionettes. . . . In old Spain, in the ardent home of Madonnas clad in beautiful dresses like lamp-shades made of pearls and gold, the marionettes acted in mystery-plays and performed the drama of the Passion. . . . Formerly, during the great religious festivals at Jerusalem, puppets were made to dance piously on the Holy Sepulchre. Similarly, in Greece and Rome, jointed dolls had at first a part in the ceremonies of religion; then they lost their religious character. In the decline of the drama, the Athenians were seized with such a fancy for them that the archons authorized little wooden actors to appear in that theater of Bacchus, which had resounded to the lamentations of Atossa and the furies of Orestes.

HOW ABOUT YOUR NECK?

WE do not think of the neck as a part of the body, that is, as a part with any health significance or as one that portrays character. If, however, we will read what Dr. C. W. Crampton says about it we will change our opinions. In the neck is located a very important part of the spinal cord. In fact, the pains in the nerves of the arms and hands which are not due to local trouble have their origin in the neck region or above. Of the neuritis pains in the arms and hands at least half are due to conditions in the neck.

Surrounding the spinal end are the vertebrae. There naturally is a neck curve in the backbone, but this is often exaggerated. In the neck are the four great arteries which carry blood to the brain, the head, and the face. Also the jugular veins. There are three important nerve centers—little brains—in the neck. These are sympathetic nerve ganglia having much to do with circulation and respiration.

In front lies the thyroid gland, one of the most important of all ductless glands. Here are the trachea, an important part of the breathing tube, and the esophagus, or part of it, the great tube for swallowing.

And, finally, there are the powerful muscles which run up and down and which hold the head in position. Most of the weight of the head lies in front of the ears. Therefore, the tendency is for the head to slide forward. In other words, for the man to stoop, carrying the head forward with the face pointing downward. Witness the tendency of the head to fall forward in nodding. At that time the muscles no longer pull against the balance of weight in front.

Crampton thinks that when the head stoops forward and the head faces downward the flow of blood to the brain is in some measure interfered with. He says the neck tells the story of power or lack of it. Since every one's head is heavy in front and a forward stoop is inevitable as age weakens the muscles the custom of taking neck exercises daily should be universal.

This is the exercise he advises: Carry the face forward until the chin nearly touches the breast bone and the face looks downward. Turn the face forward, first one shoulder and then the other. Carry the neck and head slowly backward until the neck is bent sharply backward and the face is pointed toward the ceiling. Hold in this position for some seconds. Contract the muscles of the back of the neck. This exercise should be repeated at the rate of fifteen times a minute. Most of the time should be occupied in carrying the head backward and holding it there. This exercise should be repeated about ten times a day.

YOUR BABY OVEREATS.

Mrs. J. A. R. writes: "Will you kindly give me a little advice about my baby? Whenever he nurses he cries, rubs his feet together, and has gas in his intestines and belches. He is 6 months old. I feed him regularly on a three hour schedule and he is a big, strong, healthy baby in every way. He never seems to have colic at any other time. It seems lately that he has no comfort in nursing at all, but my milk must be rich because he weighs about 20 pounds. We have given him peppermint and pepsin often, but that does not seem to benefit him in any way. He has his two lower teeth at this time, and I thought possibly that might have something to do with his digestion."

REPLY.

Colic comes from overeating, especially if the milk is a little too rich. Colicky babies are very apt to be fat and strong, not because they kick and yell so much, but because the milk they get is so abundant and rich. If they would only eat less of it they would suffer less. Maybe that is where some older people, who suffer from overeating, got the habit. If you can make your baby stop nursing before he overfills his stomach, you may cure him. Or give him a little water or gruel just before he nurses. If these simple methods fail, try the Grulee dry casein, lactic acid bacillus method recently given in this column.

ONE REMEDY FOR ITCH.

H. S. writes: "Possibly you have never had the itch. If not you have certainly missed a rare experience, especially the exquisite pleasure of the daily scratch with its gratifying relief. But all pleasure becomes irksome after unending continuity. Hence for those who trouble you with inquiries for relief and yet do not have the proper equipment for the hot bath which you suggest permit me to propose liquid sulphur just applied and scratched in, no washing or changing until cured. The liquid is a trifle odoriferous, due possibly to some hydrogen sulphide, yet the relief far outweighs that discomfort. We know, for we have used it."

REMOVING BIRTHMARK.

Mrs. W. W. W. writes: "In reply to Mrs. A. L., whose baby has a disfiguring birthmark, I would like to state that my baby had a similar mark under her ear. We took her to a specialist and had it treated with carbon dioxide snow and afterwards with injections of alcohol. Now there is just a white scar which seems to be slowly diminishing in size. The child is 7 years old. This treatment requires no anesthetic. Mrs. A. L.'s baby should be attended to at once, for every time the child cries more blood is forced into the spot, causing it to swell and spread."

NOT BLOOD PURIFIER.

C. P. A. writes: "Is rosin a good blood purifier?"

THE WELL KNOWN "S. A. E."

Chicago, Jan. 9.—[Friend of the People.]—We have had an argument or discussion on the correct usage of a certain phrase. Will you please settle it by telling us which is correct of the following: "We are inclosing a self-stamped addressed envelope" or "We are inclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope"? D.

The latter is correct. If you wish to convey the thought that the stamped envelope you are inclosing is addressed to yourself.

DIVIDING THE PROPERTY.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—My husband is dead and his mother sold her property.

1. Would it be possible that I would have to sign?

2. As I have two children, what share should they receive?

3. Is there such a thing as a "widow's share"?

4. If so, what should I get, as there was no will made by my husband's father? M. L. R.

1. No. 2. None in property that has been sold by the owner. 3. Yes, of property that belonged to the husband. Such does not appear to have been the case here. 4. This is inconsistent with your opening words, "her property." If your husband was the only child the entire estate belonged to him, subject only to dower, widow's award, and possible homestead, and on his death it would descend to his children.

It depends on the facts bearing upon whether the Pennsylvania court had jurisdiction.

Write to the clerk of the court in which the divorce was secured and get a copy of the decree. Submit it to an attorney.

Mere ownership of adjacent land would not necessarily give title. We advise you not to purchase without having the title examined by a lawyer.

SPEAKING OF COURTESY ON TRAFFIC LINES.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Re your communication signed "A Commuter," I would like to suggest a remedy for relieving congestion on crowded cars, thus doing away with the frequency of the agitation and reflections of a "Don Quixote" reference to our want of courtesy to the "fair sex." If many of these ladies, who are also commuters, of both elevated and surface lines, accompanied by children, some with two or more, under fare age, would develop a little courtesy and take at least one of these children on their laps, and the car companies could incorporate a little "Article X." into their rules and regulations that these children who are not paying fares but are occupying seats give them up to both sexes who are paying for this convenience it would increase the seating capacity greatly.

E. S. FITCH.

THE FOREIGNER IS SHOCKED.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—"Commuter's" protest against the ungallantry of American men is justified and will find an echo in many a kind and gallant heart. Despite the frequent assertion that the men of America "honor" their women they, or many of them, stand before the bar of the civilized world as boasters only. One of the most amazing things to foreigners visiting this country is the sight of women standing in public conveyances while "gentlemen" occupy the seats. In most European countries, certainly in Britain, such a thing is hardly ever seen.

There can be no good reason, but there is a possible bad one, for "Commuter's" complaint, and it may be this, that the position of women has changed so much during the last half century. Fifty years ago the woman in business was practically unknown. Then she complied fully with Ruskin's noble conception of womanhood. Her world was the home and there she reigned supreme, with gentle influence nobly guiding the lives of those she loved. Now the woman's world is largely the busy one of commerce, where she has proved herself not infrequently to be the better "man." The world's business today needs the help of women. To withdraw her help now would affect the business world far worse than any financial panic. The business woman has come to stay, and we may as well recognize the fact. The new conditions may have affected man's point of view.

OLIVER MCEWAN.

ENCOURAGING POOR SERVICE.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Does "Commuter" realize that in giving up my seat in the Oak Park "L" [as I have an opportunity to do every day in traveling back and forth from Oak Park] I am merely aiding and abetting the delinquency of the traction companies, who have abundant cars on sidings and in sheds, standing idle [to save expense of running them], that they may milk thousands of extra fares from helpless passengers who are compelled to patronize these predatory corporations!

Do not blame "the lack of politeness of men," but lay the blame where it belongs, by looking into it.

C. H. GILSON.

WHEN ART IS NOT "THE BUNK."

Chicago, Jan. 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I wonder if the Evansville correspondent who asserts "Art is the bunk" could give a coherent definition of real art?

I readily agree with him in his attitude toward the production that he mentions. However, I do not think him justified in condemning art because things of this type are labeled so. No artist ever classes an exhibition of this sort as art, or ever will. It is the goods and not the label that have always determined standards of quality. To my mind it is as much of a blasphemy to give a show of this sort the name of art as it would be to call it religion.

Going further, I might say that the people who consider this stuff as art can hardly be classed as the "best." Opulence and a bank account are by no means a guarantee of quality or character.

However, there are many encouraging symptoms today and—the paradox is not yet past.

D. G. BERNARD.

ON THE NEW PHONE RATES.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—May, 1920, I signed a contract with the Chicago Telephone company for a four party line telephone, to cost me 5 cents a day, or $1.50 per month. A while back they broke the contract with me by raising the rates to $1.95 per month. Again they are in the act of breaking the contract by raising the rates to $2.75 (?) per month.

If I had kept my phone for only one month and ordered it removed the Chicago Telephone company would bring suit against me for breaking the contract, but the above said company, being worth millions of dollars and being able to fight their lawsuits in any court, can, with impunity, raise their rates, break contracts, or anything that they would hold their subscribers liable for.

WE'RE FOR IT IF IT WORKS.

Kearney, Neb., Jan. 5.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—"Lessen the smoke horror," in THE TRIBUNE'S platform, can easily be accomplished by coal consumers by reburning all fine ashes (no clinkers). For a number of years I have mixed 100 pounds of wet ashes with every ten of coal for boiler firing. This should be fired as wet as possible and well mixed. For furnace fires I found it best to put wet ashes over the top of newly put on coal. The difference in the smoke coming out of the chimney is remarkable. If coal is used only a black, sooty smoke shows; using wet ashes with the coal, the smoke is more like steam, never sooty.

I found that two tons of coal with ashes were equal to three tons if coal was fired only. WM. HOFFMAN.

BRITISH MINISTER OF WAR VISITS FRENCH CAPITAL

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright, 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.)

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Winston Churchill, British minister of war, arrived in Paris this evening.

Refusing to be interviewed, Mr. Churchill stated over the telephone: "I am here unofficially on private business."

But when asked whether he intended to seek French acceptance of the so-called Hoffman plan for utilizing the German army to crush the bolsheviki, Mr. Churchill declined to answer.

Inside circles believe the British war minister is in France to assuage French discontent because Germany has not demobilized and to warn Quai d'Orsay of the necessity of permitting Germany to remain armed to repulse the Reds if they overrun Poland and Roumania.

To See French Leaders.

It is said Mr. Churchill will call tomorrow upon M. Raiberti, the French war minister; Marshal Foch, Premier Leygues, M. Poincaire, and President Millerand.

It was announced this evening that Gen. Nollet, head of the allied military mission at Berlin, was coming to Paris to submit to Mr. Churchill a new report showing further flagrant violations of the disarmament clauses of the treaty and that Germany is hiding artillery, aircraft, and munitions.

GERMANS FEAR POLES

BY GEORGE SELDES.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—All Berlin newspapers this evening carry sensational reports officially inspired of the massing of a Polish army of 175,000 on the German borders and especially near the Silesian coal fields and Posen, the chief city in the Danzig corridor, ceded to Poland. The government has officially declared that whereas there were only 20,000 Polish soldiers on the borders last October, there were 100,000 in December, while 70,000 more have arrived in the last ten days.

The Lokal Anzieger gives plans for an alleged Polish military attack whose purpose is said to be annexing the Silesian coal fields, where the entente plans a plebiscite shortly. The paper declares 24,000 Polish troops are stationed at Posen.

New Canal at Sea Level Urged by Baker

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Construction of a sea level canal to parallel the Panama waterway was advocated today by Secretary Baker. Within fifteen years, he said, the Panama canal would be inadequate to handle world commerce between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

"Commercial reasons primarily and military considerations in a less degree indicate that we should begin preparing to build another canal," the war secretary said. "I believe it should properly be a sea level project. It should be built either through Panama at the point once considered as a site for the present canal, or through Nicaragua."

LABOR DEMANDS FINGER IN DIKE TO STEM ALIEN TIDE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Protection for the American laborer from foreign "imports" on an equality with the protection accorded American products by tariff laws was asked of the senate immigration committee by Frank Morrison, secretary, American Federation of Labor. He added that the position of the federation was that of straight out proection, without any reservation for a period of two years from alien labor.

He told the committee that reports just received from labor officials in 141 cities showed the total number of unemployed in these places to be 1,819,272, and said he would not "dare estimate what the total of all cities would show."

Figures were submitted by Mr. Morrison showing the unemployed in Greater New York to be 300,000; Detroit, 150,000; Philadelphia, 235,000; Chicago, 200,000; Cleveland, 118,00; St. Louis, 40,000; Boston, 50,000; Milwaukee, 40,000; San Francisco, 15,000; Seattle, 9,000, and Pittsburgh, 20,000.

"Official figures of the labor department show that 101,000 came in October and 103,000 in November," Mr. Morrison said. "Eliminating those who returned to Europe, these figures would mean a net immigration of 784,000 a year."

Secretary Morrison was preceded on the stand by a delegation of business men representing construction industries and manufacturers. John R. Wiggins, Pennsylvania, leader of the delegation, opposed the Johnson bill, and declared arguments that "a flood of Europeans was imminent" was "absolutely fallacious." He asked for modification or elimination of literacy tests and contract restriction laws.

"It is our belief," he said, "that under the Sterling bill there will be a more intelligent and better enforcement of immigration laws than under other legislation presented."

SENATE THINKS YANKS WILL QUIT RHINE MARCH 4

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special]—Withdrawal of the 15,300 American troops from Germany immediately after March 4 was forecast in the senate today during a debate over Senator New's resolution to reduce the size of the regular army to 175,000 men.

Mr. New showed that 42,000 American troops are now overseas. Of these, 15,300 are in Germany, 7,000 in Hawaii, 5,900 in Panama, 10,000 in the Philippines, 1,800 in Porto Rico, and 1,400 in China.

Senator Lenroot, Wisconsin, proposed an amendment to reduce the size of the army to 150,000 men, declaring it his belief that the troops would evacuate Germany soon after March 4.

Secretary Baker was sharply criticised for trying to recruit the regular army up to 280,000 men, the authorized maximum strength under the army reorganization act, in defiance of the refusal of congress to appropriate for more than 175,000 men. Mr. Baker's action means congress will have to make up a $60,000,000 deficit in the army budget, it was estimated.

An Exhibit of Kitchens

Complete Equipment in Eight Examples

THE workroom of the home requires for its economical operation the best of equipment. Not every home demands every little refinement in the kitchen tools—all depends on the size of the family, the amount of entertaining done, the tastes of the individuals.

To show graphically the needs of average kitchens, what they include and how much they will cost, we have assembled eight groups of kitchen equipment, varying from the very simple things needed by two people up to the array provided for a family of eight.

These are on exhibition all this week in the Exhibition Aisle of Household Utilities. Prices from $113.25 to $983.

Household Utilities, Ninth Floor.

A Special Display

Moradabad Metal Ware

LITTLE channels are cut into the metal with an engraving tool, forming the design—then colored enamel is fused and poured into the channels, and rubbed smooth till it forms a black, red, or blue pattern all over the gleaming metal surface.

That is Moradabad ware, which comes to us from the patient hands of workmen in Oudh, British India.

An exhibition showing the steps of the process, and some of the remarkably beautiful pieces that have been developed to our order, is in progress in the China Section. It includes Carafes, Trays, Bowls, Compotes, etc., in great variety.

4 ROBBERS SLUG POLICEMAN; GUN BATTLE FOLLOWS

Battling four robbers whom he surprised in Samuel Popen's saloon at 2200 Clybourn avenue, Policeman George Mandel of North Halsted street station, used his fists and then his revolver last night. He did not quit until he fell unconscious from a fracture of the skull.

He heard the command "Hands up!" as he passed Popen's open door. He entered. Popen and three customers were lined against the wall, hands elevated. All four robbers were armed.

One guarded the door. Mandel seized the robber's revolver and he yelled. The other three ran to his assistance. They were afraid to fire lest they might wound their pal. The four bore Mandel to the floor.

Return to Robbery Job.

One struck him on the head with a revolver butt. He fell unconscious. They then kicked and stamped him. When they considered he had been disposed of they returned to Popen and took $75 from him, $82 from one customer, and smaller sums from the others. They then fled.

Mandel regained consciousness as they were going out. He staggered after them. They were 100 feet away when he reached the street. He opened fire. They returned it. He emptied his revolver twice, following them for a block, when he again lost consciousness.

Police Find Him on Sidewalk.

Popen had notified the North Halsted street station. Policeman Judge Phillips and William Curley came with the patrol and found Mandel on the sidewalk, bleeding from the skull fracture and body lacerations. He was removed to Alexian Brothers' hospital, where his injuries were dressed. As soon as he regained consciousness he said:

"I want to go home to my wife and babies."

They sought to dissuade him, but he insisted. So he was taken to his home at 4557 North Artesian avenue.

Ruth King Lahr Would Divorce Her Artist Mate

They studied together, and shortly after leaving school they were married at the bride's home at 1524 Morse avenue. Mrs. Lahr charges cruelty.

RAIL MANAGER CHARGES UNIONS SEEK CONTROL

Wage Board Takes Up New Clash.

A controversy which, it was predicted in railroad circles, will end in the courts of last resort, was begun yesterday before the United States railway labor wage board.

B. M. JEWELL. (Photo: U. & U.)

B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employés' department of the A. F. of L., charged that railway executives are seeking to abrogate national agreements made while the roads were under federal control with a view to smashing the railway unions. These agreements placed all members of the same craft on exactly the same working basis and wage scale.

Replying to Jewell's charges, E. T. Whiter, chairman of the managers' committee, accused the unions of trying to camouflage what really was an attempt on their part to get control of the roads.

Big Problem for the Board.

Chairman H. M. Barton of the board declared the controversy brought up a problem greater than that raised by the wage award of last spring.

The request of the union officials, if granted, he said, would mean that the board would have to lay down "rules of thumb" for the guidance of both the management and the employés of the entire railway system of the country. The request of the railroad executives —for the abrogation of the national agreements—would mean, he said, that unless each individual road could reach a satisfactory agreement with its employés, the board would have to lay down a set of rules for every road in the country—possibly for every department of every road.

This, Mr. Jewell intimated, is exactly what the unions want, and this, Mr. Whiter declared, means the ruin of railroad efficiency.

Charges Union Smashing Attempt.

Mr. Jewell told the board that the railroad managers were "stopping at nothing to smash the unions." He said twelve New York banks control them, adding that the same syndicate controls twenty of the leading railroad equipment companies, to which the roads are sending work formerly done in their own shops.

GERMANS CONFER HERE; SEEKING CABINET PLACE?

Rumor was rife in the Chicago Lincoln club yesterday concerning the influence delegates to the German American national conference, in session here since Sunday, might seek to exercise upon President Elect Harding in the selection of his cabinet. Forty delegates from all sections of the country are attending.

Ferdinand Walther, president of the Teutons' Alliance of Chicago, is chairman. But the dominating figure, according to some delegates, is George Sylvester Viereck, editor of the American Monthly, New York, whose pro-German activities kept him much in the limelight during the war.

And from Viereck came the only hint as to the character of resolutions discussed in executive sessions.

Refers to Article in His Paper.

"I can't assure you my ideas will be incorporated in the resolutions," he said, "but you might read my article entitled, 'What We Expect from President Harding' in the current issue of the American Monthly."

Excerpts from that article follow:

"We trust that President Harding's administration will be an era of good feeling, enabling the world to recuperate from the nightmare of Wilsonism.

"When the nauseating regime of the present occupant of the White House broke 6,000,000 voters of German descent who made Mr. Harding's election triumph unequaled in the annals of our country will be ready to join with Mr. Harding in the difficult task of making America safe for Americans."

Seek Cabinet Position.

Referring to the manner in which the "German element did its duty," the article continues:

"Under these circumstances, Americans of German descent should receive signal recognition from Mr. Harding, by the appointment of one or more men of their race to the cabinet and many other important positions."

"You may use some of that as an interview with me," said Viereck.

JURY COMMENDS POLICEMEN FOR KILLING HOLDUP

John J. Burke. John J. Gibbons.

Patrolmen John J. Gibbons and John Burke of the Wabash avenue station were highly commended by a coroner's jury for shooting to death Daniel J. Dorgan, 6554 South Union avenue, as he was holding up the drug store of O. U. Sisson at 5034 Cottage Grove avenue on the night of Dec. 19. Ten holdups had occurred previously in the same store, and the policemen were hiding behind the prescription counter when Dorgan and two companions entered. Dorgan's companions escaped.

COURT DECIDES KISS-A-MINUTE IS WORTH $3,500

Kisses, especially those given at the rate of sixty an hour, one a minute, are valuable. In the Appellate court yesterday Judge Jesse Holdom affirmed a judgment rendered in Judge Sabath's Superior court two years ago, awarding Miss Virginia Foster $3,500 damages from Aurelius C. Turpin because he, a retired realty dealer, had kissed her at the express train speed.

"He told me his wife had run away with a preacher, but that I had restored his lost faith in women," Miss Foster, a nurse, testified at the former hearing. "And he would kiss me on the average of sixty times an hour, and each kiss was a long, lingering one."

Turpin denied the kissing. He also denied any promise of marriage.

TWO MURDERERS SEEK RELEASE FROM LIFE TERMS

Two Cook county murderers are seeking release from the penitentiary. The state board of pardons and paroles will today hear the applications of Frank Kita and Harry Jacoby. The Chicago crime commission will oppose any commutations of their life sentence.

Kita was convicted of being a participant in the Guezlow murder, one of the most atrocious on record. Four of his companions were hanged. He and Leo Suchomski, both 16 years of age at the time, were sentenced to life imprisonment. That was in 1911.

Jacoby was convicted of the murder of John Engle on April 24, 1912, during an attempted holdup of the saloon of Alex Mischke, 2534 Southport avenue. Engle failed to raise his hands quickly enough and was killed.

The body of Fred Guezlow, a truck farmer of Niles, was found on the morning of Oct. 20, 1911. He had been driving a load of produce to market. At Lincoln and Peterson avenues his wagon was stopped by six young men. They tortured him to make him disclose the hiding place of his money. After killing him they drove off with the wagon and hid the body.

Police soon rounded up the gang. Frank and Ewald Shiblawski, brothers; Philip Somerling, their brother-in-law, and Thomas Schultz, 19 were hanged. Because of the ages of Kita and Suchomski they were shown leniency.

BY HARRY NEWMAN.

New York, Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The opening gun was fired this afternoon at the first of a three days' session called for the establishment of a national board of boxing control.

W. H. LIGINGER. [Klein Photo.]

The convention started with a luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria, with delegates from fifteen states in attendance. State Senator James J. Walker, father of the boxing law in New York state, acted as toastmaster and welcomed the visitors from many sections of the country.

Plan Permanent Organization.

Following the luncheon, the delegates repaired to the headquarters of the International Sporting club, where plans were put into operation for the establishment of a permanent organization. The delegates arriving at the Waldorf were greeted by William A. Gavin, managing director of the International club. The list of delegates included:

Herbert R. Dean, Rhode Island; Latrobe Cogswell, Maryland; Coe C. Hawkins, Connecticut; John S. Smith, New Jersey; Matt Hinkel, Ohio; Frank De Rice, Maine; Joseph A. Johnson, New York; Walter H. Liginger, Wisconsin; R. T. Burke, Louisiana; William A. Trombley, Montana; R. J. Mulqueen, Toronto; William H. Rocap, Pennsylvania; Robert D. Anderson, Kentucky; De Witt C. Fisher, Ohio; William H. Kramer, Arkansas; L. H. Lightcap, Ohio; Robert H. Seiderich, Minnesota, and A. E. Hunt of Portland, Ore.

The state of Ohio sent three delegates to represent its interests.

Walker Explains Plans.

Senator Walker, in his opening address, explained the general idea and hope of the congress in arriving at some definite arrangement for the betterment of the boxing game in every state.

A permanent organization with the unification of laws and rules governing boxing in every state was urged by Mr. Walker.

William A. Trombley, delegate from Montana, told how the boxing bill had won in his state and that he had been sent to gather information that might improve the sport in Montana. Trombley urged that rules governing boxing should be standardized and suggested a national body with one code to prevail for the world.

Marilley Temporary Chairman.

Alfred L. Marilley, counsel for the International Sporting club and army and navy board of boxing control, was chosen temporary chairman. The selection of a name for the body was put over until tomorrow, when reports of the various committees will be heard. It is expected that the sessions will be concluded Wednesday.

FREEDMAN USES FIST ON BROTHER OF HIS RING FOE

There was a merry time yesterday at the Arcade gym, where Sailor Freedman is training for his battle with Charley White at Kenosha Friday night. Jack White, brother of Charley, involved himself in a bit of repartee with Freedman, which reached a climax when White mentioned a color, frequently applied in cases where a fellow is lacking in courage.

Freedman hopped to his feet, dashed at Jack, and socked him with a right hander under the eye. The gym mob gleefully assembled at close quarters to see the impromptu scrap, which was a gloveless affair, but the bout was broken up and White departed.

Marshall Fives Grab Pair from Hyde Park Teams

Marshall scored a double victory over Hyde Park High basketball teams in the losers' gym yesterday. The heavyweight game was a battle, 11 to 10, both sides missing on free throws, while strenuous guarding kept the baskets down. The lightweight game was a walkover, 18 to 7. Heavy lineup:

CASH IN ON TRUTH

11 YEAR OLD MISS IS FIRST ENTRANT FOR SILVER SKATES RACE

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

To little Miss Anna Simmons, 11 year old student of St. Brenden's school, goes the honor of being the first girl to enter for THE TRIBUNE Silver Skates Derby to be held at Humboldt park Jan. 30.

While Miss Simmons has the distinction of sending in the first nomination received for the girls' Silver Skates Derby, the honor in the junior Silver Skates Derby, open to all boys under 16 years of age, goes to William K. Maxwell of the Rogers Park Skating club. Maxwell is 15 years of age and has had considerable experience in racing, especially in playground meets.

Marine Enters from Dixie.

That out of town flyers will compete in the senior Silver Skates Derby, which is open to all skaters 16 years of age and over, was shown with the receipt of Malcolm D. Snelgrove's entry from the marine barracks at Paris Island, S. C. Snelgrove stated in his letter, which will be accepted as his entry, that he will be discharged from service in time to be here for the event.

Although the first entries received have been given honorable mention, twenty-five others were accepted in yesterday's mail. They include names of well known speed artists who can be depended upon to furnish stiff competition for the stars who already are being picked as prospective winners.

Skating Weather Almost Certainty.

Although no skating Derbies have been held this year because of mild weather, it is almost a certainty there will be skating the latter part of the month. Members of the west parks commission will coöperate with THE TRIBUNE in doing everything possible to have the pond in shape the moment the weather turns cold enough to insure skating with safety.

As it will take only a few days of cold weather to freeze the park lagoons to skating thickness, all plans for staging the Silver Skates must be completed before Jan. 24, when the entries will close. Therefore it is up to the skaters to send in their nominations, so that the races can be decided with dispatch on the appointed day.

WOODS and WATERS by LARRY ST. JOHN

CARP RECIPES.

HAL WALLACE, Chicago, writes: "Through an article published some years ago in Woods and Waters I was tempted to try eating carp, my camp being where these fish were plentiful and easy to catch. I did quite a bit of experimenting and find that while they are edible cooked in the usual manner, they must first be prepared properly. If the fish can be caught alive and kept a few days in clean, fresh water it improves them very much. Next best, skin the fish and let it lie a few hours in salt water.

"My favorite method of cooking carp is boiling. Take the fish from the salt water and tie it in a cloth, allowing room for it to swell as it cooks; you may put an onion or piece of bacon in the cloth if you desire. In a fresh kettle of water, well salted, boil the fish slowly until done. Then make a sauce as follows; take a piece of butter about the size of an egg, put it in a pan and melt; stir in a tablespoon of flour and half a teaspoon of mustard. Let it come to a boil and season with salt and pepper. Pour over fish and serve. This is a fine recipe also for lake trout, Lake Michigan steel head trout and sturgeon."

* *

Jens Christofferson, Minneapolis, also has a good word to say for the carp, especially as a chowder fish. He writes: "Fleece or skin the carp. Remove the bones and cut flesh into small pieces. Build up chowder in layers. First a layer of salt pork, then sliced raw potatoes, then sliced onions, then fish, then crackers. Omit pork, but continue the other ingredients in layers until kettle is filled, seasoning each layer lightly. Add a little water and boil slowly, stirring gently as it thickens to keep pork from adhering to bottom of kettle."

* *

The carp is naturally a bottom feeding fish and the Jewish practice of keeping them alive in fresh water to remove the muddy flavor is recommended. The carp is not a first class table fish, but it is a second class one and if it tastes muddy the fault is in the water from which it came, not in the fish.

FARM and GARDEN by Frank Ridgway

ICE FOR FARMING.

IN all of the states bordering the lakes farmers are safe in building icehouses and making their plans for harvesting natural ice every winter.

Ten or fifteen tons if carefully and properly insulated will be enough for the average general farmer. Of course dairy farmers need more than this, depending on the handling of the milk and its products.

In states as far north as Illinois dairymen often follow a rough rule of storing about one-half or three-fourths of a ton of ice for each cow on the farm. Unless the house is exceptionally good and the insulation dependable it is advisable to store about one ton for each cow.

If the ice is a foot thick it will take about ten or eleven cakes, twenty-two inches square, to make a ton. By having the cakes of uniform size the ice is more easily placed in the house and air spaces between the blocks are eliminated.

Ice will not keep in this region unless it is properly insulated. Before beginning to fill the house the floor must be covered with a twelve or fourteen inch layer of sawdust or mill shavings. Leave a space of about twelve inches between the ice and wall to be filled with insulation material. After the house is filled cover the ice with a thick layer of sawdust.

HYDE PARK WOULD BAR GRID PLAYERS

After a month in weighing testimony Hyde Park High school's student committee of twenty recommended expulsion from sports of the football players in the Lansing game, in which Hyde Park used a college student under an assumed name. Twenty pupils, some of them girls, formed the "court of honor."

In the report to Principal H. B. Loomis, the committee stated, "the student body should be called on for a more vigorous support of the school athletics. This lukewarm support, the presence of a few undesirables on the team, and the student code of honor, which forbids informing, were held as chief causes of the football dishonesty."

Pinehurst, N. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Chicago qualified seven golfers today in the first division of the championship tournament of the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests. Match play will start tomorrow. R. M. Purvis of the Woodland Golf club, Boston, led the field of 108 starters with 40—41—81.

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your face seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples or neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually gives quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. Stronger than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses use it to relieve bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, sore throat, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches in the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable. 35c and 65c; hospital size $3.00.

A World Without Petroleum

ELIMINATE petroleum from the world and modern industry would come to a dead stop.

Lacking that tiny film of mineral oil, continuously applied, and the machinery of the world would groan to a stand-still.

From air compressors to textile spindles, from sewing machines to power house engines, all the machinery of modern life, the machinery which clothes and feeds, and transports mankind, is dependent upon petroleum.

Animal fats and vegetable oils sufficed for lubrication in the era which preceded the industrial age, but only petroleum could supply lubricants in sufficient quantities to keep pace with the development of modern machinery.

In the development of our modern system of lubricating machinery, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has performed an essential service in producing a vast number of highest grade lubricating oils and greases from petroleum.

Another vital service of the Company is the maintenance of a distribution system which delivers its lubricants wherever, and whenever, the need occurs.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) manufactures lubricating oils and greases varying in type and consistency to meet the requirements of the innumerable machines which our commercial age requires.

Only a highly specialized and intensively developed organization could give to the people of the Middle West the service rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The customer who buys a pound of grease, a quart of oil, or a gallon of gasoline, is getting the result of the best effort of 23,000 loyal, efficient, highly trained men and women who make up the personnel of this organization.

BASEBALL CHIEFS MOVE SLOWLY IN REVAMPING GAME

WHO BID $300,000?

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—An offer of $300,000 and four players for Second Baseman Rogers Hornsby, which the St. Louis Cardinals recently declined, was not made by the Giants, Secretary O'Brien of the club declared today. He said the Giants had made no further effort after a bid of $200,000 and four players had been refused.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Prospects that major and minor baseball leagues all would be gathered together under the new agreement with Judge Landis as the big boss brightened considerably yesterday after the first day of the meeting of magnates here at the Congress hotel. No formal session of the magnates was held, but there was "lobbying" from morning until night, and there was a session of the drafting committees of the two ...ers to be followed this morning ...a joint session with the drafting ...mittee of the minors.

The fact that the American league ...n hadn't signed the agreement be... the two majors, having simply ...ed in favor of it, cast some doubt ...ng minor leaguers that harmony ...d been restored among the big fel... However, the committtee of ...e American league met with the ...mittee of the National and unani...sly agreed to recommend the sign... and adoption of the new agree...nt at the joint session of majors ...e tomorrow.

Looks Like Peace.

What action made it appear certain ...at the reorganization of the game as ...anned, with Judge Landis at the ...ad of both majors, will be effected, ...d since the minors have accepted the ...itation to meet with the major ...ague committees this morning, it ...o looks as if they, too, will be in ...e fold.

The National league drafting com...ittee is composed of President Heyd..., Garry Herrmann of Cincinnati and ...rney Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh, and ...ey have employed George Wharton ...epper of Philadelphia as attorney. ...he American league committee is ...ade up of President Johnson, Frank ...avin of Detroit, Tom Shibe of Phila...elphia and Clark Griffith of Washing...n, the latter replacing Jim Dunn ...f Cleveland, who was compelled to ...e absent. They have Henry Killilea, ...rmer baseball magnate, but now ...ilwaukee attorney, as their counselor.

American Ready to Act.

As there is no doubt about all Na...onal league magnates being in favor ...f the new plan, the stand of that or...anization is assured. Three Ameri...an league clubs, Chicago, New York ...d Boston, were lined up with the ...ational league in the first place. ...hese, with the three American league ...en on the committee who acted in ...vor of it yesterday, as well as Presi...nt Johnson, makes it quite evident ...at the Johnson organization will ...ve no opposition. There were some ...ght changes made in the agreement, ...t nothing that altered the principles ...drawn up and adopted at the De...mber meetings in New York.

The major league committees at the ...nion yesterday further agreed to rec...mmend at the joint session tomorrow ...e adoption of a new form of players' ...ntract and the signing of a contract ...th Judge Landis for the seven year ...rm agreed upon in November when ...e accepted the offer as commissioner ...f baseball. Other matters of lesser ...portance were passed on for adop...on at the joint session.

Tighten Up On Players.

The new form of contract for players ...s being drawn up by Pepper with the ...id of the committees and is said to ...mbody the idea of ethics in baseball ...s well as terms. There will be a para...graph or two relating quite specifical...y to the conduct of the player on and ...ff the field, which, if followed strictly, ...s bound to build up the morale of ...very club and eradicate many of the ...evils that have crept into the game ...n recent years.

Minor league presidents and many ...lub owners in attendance held a for...al meeting in the afternoon to finish ...p a lot of business started at their ...November meeting in Kansas City. The ...committee appointed at that time on ...evision of the constitution offered its ...eport and suggestions and they were ...oted upon, nearly all being adopted.

Minors Aim at Gambling.

Perhaps the most important change ...uggested and adopted was a section ...elating to baseball gambling. The ...president of each league was author...zed and directed to maintain strict su...pervision over all clubs to prevent open ...ool selling or betting in any of the ...parks and to investigate any rumor ...charging any player with offering, ...agreeing, conspiring, or attempting to ...fix any game, betting on any game, or ...of being interested in any pool or ...wager thereon.

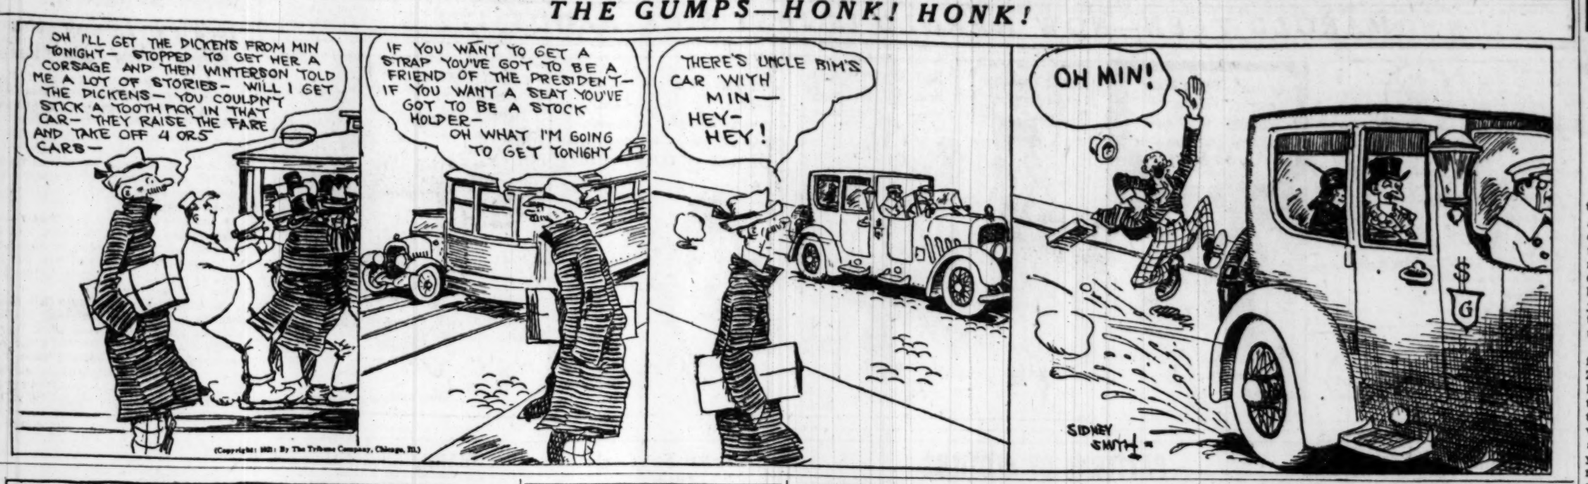

The president also was directed to ...investigate any connection of the gam...bling evil and to recommend to the ...proper authorities ways and means for ...its suppression of same where the ...suppression comes under the jurisdic...tion of local, state, or federal authori...ties.

Enlarge Arbitration Board.

The national board of arbitration, ...the governing power of the minors, ...was changed from a body of nine to a ...body of seven members, two being ...from class AA, two from class A, and ...one each from classes B, C, and D. ...Other matters of lesser importance ...were changed. A clause establishing ...the salary limit in the various classes ...was discussed and left open, as has ...been the case on other occasions.

The minors didn't take up the ques...tion of the drafting of players by the ...majors, but are expected to at the ...continuance of their meeting this after...noon. Their action on that issue is ...considered important, as some of them ...favored a vote against the draft would ...mean the minors would not enter into ...the new agreement with the majors.

THE GUMPS—HONK! HONK!

In the Wake of the News

BASEBALL "ETHICS."

PRESIDENT HEYDLER of the National league, according to Neighbor Crusinberry, favors the introduction of the word "ethics" into the baseball vocabulary. We approve. As a preliminary we suggest that several magnates buy dictionaries to learn what the word means.

Baseball is the only business in which your bitterest rival is also, in a sense, your partner. A weak club, or an unpopular club, in any one of the eight cities of a league affects the receipts of the other seven clubs, both when they visit that city and when in turn that club swings the circuit and visits the other seven cities.

If club owners finally realize that they have taken themselves too seriously and their own statements and conduct too lightly they have gone far toward making it possible for Judge Landis, czar extraordinary, to restore the badly shattered public confidence. Without this aid even Judge Landis can bring scarcely more than a surface improvement.

Despite the White Sox disclosures, those of us who receive letters from fans realize, even if the governing powers of baseball do not, that restoration of public confidence in baseball must begin, not with chasing a few unfortunate players—unfortunate, no matter how despicable their actions were—but with adoption of better sportsmanship by the men who own and control organized baseball.

We are not unduly optimistic concerning the professed good intentions, but we are hopeful, for surely self-interest, if nothing else, demands just such a course.

You have heard of the man who has tried

For sooner or later he finds he must rest,

And he has to give way to the undertow's

So it is with lone Buck and with poor H. M.

Trying to weather the apron-string tether

The Yanks who bunked on Bunker Hill, they really met defeat.
The British drove them off the knob and forced them to retreat.
And yet we hand it to those Yanks and celebrate their feat.

CUBS CUT PASKERT OFF ROSTER; REDS CLAIM VETERAN ON WAIVER

Dode Paskert, veteran of veterans in baseball, and last year the regular center fielder for the Cubs, isn't through with baseball, even if he does admit to something like 39 summers in age. President Veeck of the Cubs announced last night that, in accordance with Manager Evers' plans to build up a team of young fellows, waivers had been asked on Paskert, but that the Cincinnati club had refused to waive and consequently Dode has been turned over to the Reds at the waiver price. It is likely he would have been given his unconditional release had no big league club desired him.

DODE PASKERT.

As Manager Moran has on numerous occasions wished that he had a good swatting right handed hitter on his club to use against left handed hurlers in tight games, he is sure to find in Dode the fellow who can swat. It is hardly likely Paskert will replace one of the Red regulars, but he is sure to be in a lot of games.

Cleveland to Start for Dallas Early in March

Cleveland, Jan., 10—The Cleveland American team, world's champions, will leave for Dallas, Tex., their training camp, between March 1 and March 5, Manager Tris Speaker announced today, following a conference with James C. Dunn, president of the club.

MAT MATCH OFF WHEN ZBYSZKO INJURES ANKLE

The scheduled heavyweight wrestling bout between Stanislaus Zbyszko and Renato Gardini, scheduled for the Coliseum last night, was called off late yesterday because of an injury suffered by the Pole last Saturday.

STAN. ZBYSZKO.

While training for the bout Zbyszko turned his ankle. At the time he did not think the injury would prevent his appearance, but yesterday the member became worse and Manager Herman did not think it advisable for his man to go on.

Rather than substitute another man, promoters called off the show and refunded all money taken in on the advance sale of tickets.

PEACOCK ALLEY NOTES

Judge Landis had intended to meet with the major league committees yesterday, but was confined to his home with a severe cold. A large oil painting of the judge hung in the hotel lobby, and, no matter in what part of the room one was standing, the eyes of the judge were upon him. The effect was quite impressive.

Fred Mitchell, now manager of the Braves, arrived with the his boss, George Grant, and was busy talking possible trades. It seems the Braves are likely to let "Rabbit" Maranville go, and the talk is that New York is almost sure to get him. "Mitch" hates to lose the little star, but expects to get three or four good men in exchange, and, of course, the Boston club will get a bundle of cash to boot.

Manager Evers of the Cubs arrived on a morning train, and was in several conferences with President Veeck during the day. He also conferred with Jack Doyle, scout of the north siders, regarding several of the youngsters who are to be tried out this spring.

Among old time players who were lobbying were Sammy Strang, one time a star in New York and Chicago; Artie Hofman, the "Circus Solly" outfielder of the Cubs under Frank Chance; Joe Tinker, also of the same team and now manager for the Orlando [Fla.] outfit, and Charley O'Leary, old time Detroit star and now coach of the Yankees.

Clarence Rowland, new manager of the Columbus club, with President Burns, just breaking in as a magnate, was one of the busy bosses about the meeting. Clarence is after a lot of players to build up a winner in the Ohio capital.

Two live White Sox recruits were seen around the hotel lobby in Johnny Mostil and Douglas McWeeney. Both were with Milwaukee last year, the former as outfielder and the latter as pitcher. McWeeney is a 6 footer, and they say he has a world of speed.

Nice Girl Plus Fine Old Dad Makes Fine Film

"THE PLEASURE SEEKERS"
Produced by Selznick.
Directed by George Archinbaud.
Presented at the Orpheum.
THE CAST:
Mary.....Elaine Hammerstein
Craig Winchell.....Webster Campbell
Winchell Sr.....Frank Currier
"The Marshall Woman".....
.....Marguerite Clayton
Mary's Guardian.....James Furrey

By Mae Tinée.

Elaine Hammerstein is steadily, quietly, and efficiently working her way in the hearts and esteem of picture fans. Her first appearances were most deceiving. You might have described her as big, slow, and good looking and hit the bull's eye. Time, however, has wrought wonders. Now it seems to me there are few women of the screen whose work is more sincere and convincing or who have as much personal charm as Miss Hammerstein.

"The Pleasure Seekers" as a title doesn't particularly describe the story. The only pleasure seeker in it is a young fellow with an adoring but crotchety old father and too much money, who sows a few wild oats. He is brought up sharply by the father's decision to disown him if he doesn't turn about face. The boy starts out on a motor trip, object being to think things over—he's tired of the Marshall woman anyhow. The Marshall woman is the blonde representing the pleasure in the case.

On this trip he meets Mary, the clean, the sweet, the wholesome. He marries Mary and brings her joyously back to Wall street, sure that for once in his life he has pleased the old man.

Wrong again! Dad, who has known his son's tastes, refuses even to meet the girl.

Well, watch Mary work!

I loved Miss Hammerstein as Mary, but Frank Currier as the testy old father delighted me even more. These two make the picture worth while, for, while the minor rôles are well played and some of the scenery is so beautiful that it hurts, the plot without the interpretation of Miss Hammerstein and Mr. Currier would be almost too trite, and the picture without a doubt would shuffle long on listless feet.

(If pictures have feet.)

HAROLD TEEN—NOW HAROLD IS JUST SICK ABOUT IT!

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Marrow on Toast.

Taffy undoubtedly stole the marrow bone, because he wanted the fat in it for a spread on his bread. It is considerably superior to "dripping," which for centuries the English poor have used on their bread.

In America it is usually left in the bone, dissolves, comes to the top of the pot, is skimmed and used for "soup grease," or in modern times into the garbage. American traditions about fats of all sorts are deplorably mistaken.

In the highest grade of the Parisian restaurants one gets lovely little lozenges of marrow as a garnish on various vegetables, particularly on cooked celery heart, cardoons, and all that family. The English bake it and serve it in short cuts of the marrow bone.

Marrow requires only so much cooking as will cook the blood in it, to be as delicate as a sugar pattie, and more like some white bit of vegetable, if it is cut in a thin lozenge and blanched, than anything you know of. The word fat or grease does not apply to it. But it has to be chilled to cut in these nice bits, and it is simpler to use it all as follows:

Cut in small pieces, tie in cloth, and blanch in boiling water for ten minutes; season with salt, and spread on bread. One drop of lemon juice may be added to considerable marrow, but much acid will make it unpalatable instead of dainty and a novelty.

Children Will See Marionettes Today

Many parties for children will be given at the second performance of "Rip Van Winkle" by the Tony Sarg Marionettes at the Playhouse at 4 o'clock today.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Aunty Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

My bull dog, Duke, is a great friend of the children in the neighborhood. While seated in a street car on my way to church, Grace, a neighboring little girl, was seated near by with her parents. As soon as she noticed me she exclaimed: "O, mamma! There is Duke's daddy." H. M. H.

It was two days before Christmas, and Robert and Stephen had been so naughty all day that mother finally said: "I think I know two little boys who will find their stockings full of sticks Christmas morning."

For a moment Robert looked dreadfully worried, then brightened suddenly and exclaimed triumphantly: "Ho, we have tomorrow yet, haven't we?" R. H. W.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

She Replied Coldly.

My most embarrassing moment happened one day when walking down the street with a young woman friend. She spoke to an old man carrying a ladder.

I looked at her and said: "Mary, you would speak to any one if they gave you a chance, wouldn't you?"

She replied coldly: "That was my grandfather." N. S.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Those Lovers' Quarrels.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have known a young man for past seven months and think quite a lot of him. He has never said he cared for me. We have had several disagreements and have parted often, but he always comes back. He objects to my going out with other young men but never so seriously as to accuse him of jealousy. Do you think he shows any symptoms of caring for me? I. A. M."

The symptoms are there, I. A. M. But about these quarrels—there is much romance written around lovers' quarrels but in real life such continued happenings only serve to create a gap that becomes unabridgable after a while.

Social Status Not to Their Liking, the Girls Won't Be Maids

One hundred club women of Chicago met in Recital hall of the Fine Arts building yesterday for an annual conference on household management.

Cooks and maids, they agreed, should be easy to find these days following the close of so many industrial plants and the drop in wages, but they're not easy to find and they are still asking "peak" wages.

A dozen women testified that recent experiments in maid training had resulted in the girls' seeking factory jobs, and that girls and women now coming from Europe can seldom be induced to enter household service.

One speaker declared the last likely candidate for a job in her kitchen wanted $18 a week and bank hours. Another said the best service she had been able to get has come from a married woman, who is allowed to keep her child with her. All the speakers agreed that domestic service should be raised to a higher social plane to solve the problem, and urged the establishment of a municipal school for the training of household workers, who could, upon graduation, answer service calls in the same way that trained nurses operate.

Establishment of an annual budget in every home was advised by Mrs. J. M. Judson.

I want to be the medium through which the friend in deed and the friend in need may be brought together. It may be you have some discarded article which has not outgrown is usefulness that will make some less fortunate one happy, and you would gladly give it if you knew how to go about it. Write to me and I shall be only too happy to be of service to you. Please write on one side of the paper.

When information is wanted by mail, a stamped, addressed envelope should accompany the request. Please do not send parcels to The Tribune, but write for the address of the applicant and send direct.

"I have a baby buggy sled and go cart which some one in need may have. It will be necessary to repaint the things; outside of that they are in good condition. A. G."

"I would like so much to be able to get a doll buggy for a little girl who has never had one. Will you remember her if one is offered? S. E."

NORMAL MINCEMEAT

Some years ago mince pie was the subject of a political squabble in Washington.

Dr. Wiley sommoned thirty manufacturers to obtain a definition of "normal mincemeat."

Strange to say, it was decided that mincemeat need not contain meat to be normal.

Nevertheless, chopped meat is an essential ingredient of high grade mince pie—the kind served at CHILDS.

Crispy crusts filled with goodies galore; to eat one piece is to wish for more.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Corerspondence.]—Straight up and down and simple to the last degree is the claim made by a tailleur of buff colored velours to unusual distinction. Of course some credit must be given the collar and the ball of a muff, both of which are of slynx and therefore cannot help but be interesting. It may be that the contrast of the buff cloth and the gray of the fur has its own subtle charm. It is unusual and equally becoming to youth and would-be youth. Slynx, being the fad fur of this winter, is put on cloth, velveteen, velvet, and on satin.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Tomorrow night Sir Auckland and Lady Geddes will be the guests of Mrs. Marshall Field, who will entertain at dinner followed by a dance.

Yesterday the second secretary of the Belgian embassy, Mr. Silvercruys, conferred upon Mrs. Logan, widow of Gen. John A. Logan, the Marie De Page and Edith Cavell medal. Mrs. Logan was given the medal for her work in aid of the Marie De Page ward of the hospital in Brussels established by Queen Elizabeth of the Belgians. A small company of intimate friends were present for the presentation, which was followed by tea. The medal is of bronze, with the heads of the two women in bas relief, with the single word "Remembrance" on the reverse.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER. Ganzy Is In Again

Winnie struggled up the stairs of her shabby home, tired out after a long day's fruitless search for work. Jobs were scarcer than hen's teeth.

In the parlor old man Ganzy welcomed her. "Hee-hee, s'too bad ye can't find a job. But mebbe I kin help ye," he croaked.

Winnie was surprised at being offered a position by Mr. Ganzy. "I thought you were retired!" she exclaimed. "Are you going to start in business again?"

"No," answered the old man, "but I was goin' to offer ye a job fer life!" "Nothing doing!" and Winnie arose and left old Ganzy flat.

American Singers Receive Ovation in "The Valkyrie"

BY RUTH MILLER.

The eagle did considerable screaming at the Auditorium last evening. Between the acts of "The Valkyrie" the elated sponsors of America operatic tramped triumphantly up and down the lobby and chortled over a "great triumph," a "magnificent performance," "What did I tell you about American artists?—finest voices on earth"; "Give 'em a chance; 's all they need; give 'em a chance.".

And be it recorded that their hymn of musical patriotism was righteously sung.

When Cyrena Van Gordon's name was announced as Brunhilde several went through the business of squinting a skeptical eye. Last evening she removed that ocular defect for all time.

Endowed by Providence with the body of a goddess, she found in the chain mail and robe of this original superwoman the garb for which she was intended. She carried herself magnificently, and no painting could have equaled her pose standing by her horse just before she tells Siegmund of his fate.

Miss Van Gordon's singing of the rôle was immense. Her voice always had range and volume, but faltered in quality. Somehow, somewhere she has caught a mezzo voice that is exquisiteness itself. Her pianissimo was translucent and warm as Galli-Curci's ever was. And her full tones have lost their stridency. Only on scattered notes did that harsh blur creep back. It would seem that Miss Gordon has learned control.

Her acting of the rôle had more pantomimic elasticity, more spontaneity, and more genuine depth than anything she has done. And last, but not to be forgotten, apparently overnight she has learned the English language. In her performance of Ortrud in "Lohengrin" scarcely a word was distinguishable. Last night every syllable was as clean cut, polished, and sure as the whip of a sword blade through air.

As Wotan Georges Baklanoff sang splendidly, enunciated well, and was an impelling, majestic figure. He looked every inch the mighty Teuton Jove as a dull red spotlight outlined his massive head and shoulders at the end of the battle on the mountain pass.

Dorothy Francis as Sieglinde, who eloped with her brother and caused all this domestic friction among the half gods, was a lovely, pathetic figure. She did some of the best singing of her season so far. Her voice registered a luminous, vital quality, and seemed to have shaken off that muddy chrysalis of vocal faults that held its beauty.

The rôle of Siegmund is the original comedy part of opera. This department is of the firm opinion that either Wagner was in a satiric mood when he conceived that first act of the Valkyries and limned this particular character or else he was inebriated. Riccardo Martin veiled its shortcomings with plausibility. As to pitch, he wavered, and the tonal quality might have been firmer and sweeter, but according to the critical soothsayers who hark back to the dark ages of opera he was the best Siegmund they have ever seen.

Edouard Cotreuil was not at his best as Hunding. Marie Claessens, who enacted the rôle of Fricka, that prehistoric clubwoman who went out to clean up the morals of her fair city, was both efficient and commendable.

There was just one thing vitally wrong with the performance, and that was the stage manager. Had he known or cared about the histrionic tradition of this opera, or its dramatic success, he would have belabored his artists until they would have known to the beat how long to hold a pose, every Olympian gesture would have been timed, and every entrance and exit would have been effective. That awkwardness and anxious hesitancy of pantomime that once or twice bordered dangerously near the ludicrous would have been eliminated. An orchestra is great because of its conductor. And opera is dramatically good or bad because of the stage director.

Marinuzzi gave a fine reading of the score.

A President's Mother

Portrait of Mrs. G. T. Harding, by Magda Heuermann.

Art Exhibit

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

It takes an exhibition like that which opened yesterday at the Arts club to make one realize how many and how good are the painters of Chicago. The exhibit, by professional members of the club, is one of the best that has been seen this season. A number of painters are represented and a variety of manners in paintings illustrated.

Perhaps the canvas which makes the greatest demand upon one's attention is "The Nymphs' Gambol," by Edward J. Holslag, a large painting, rich in color, and with depth and strength in its shadows.

Frederic M. Grant has a delightful picture filled with blue distance, trees and flowers, gay in sentiment, overflowing with the warm beauty of a July day, which he calls "A Summer Garden."

A miniature portrait of President Elect Harding's mother, Mrs. G. T. Harding, by Magda Heuermann, is of interest in connection with Mr. Harding, and for its own sake as the old fashioned picture of a sweet faced woman.

The exhibition will close on Jan 31.

Mrs. Algernon Sydney Sullivan will be guest of honor Thursday night at the annual reception of the Virginians, an organization of natives of Virginia now living in New York. Mrs. Sullivan was born in that state.

DEATH NOTICES

IN MEMORIAM.

DOLBERG—Wilbur A. Dolberg, who died one year ago today.

A year ago he passed away.
Although his memory sweet remains,
Our lives are changed, changed utterly,
And our hearts are rent in twain.

His tousled head, his dark brown eyes,
His smiling face, will haunt our lives,
We only live in hopes and pray
To join our Bunny some sweet day.
FATHER, MOTHER AND BROTHERS.

GOLDBERG—In loving memory of our darling boy, Leonard I. Goldberg, who passed away to his heavenly home one year ago today, Jan. 11, 1920.

Ask me do I miss him.
It's such a lonely place;
Oft I think I hear his footsteps
Or see his smiling face.
Around his grave I linger
Where the sun is setting low,
Thinking of the home that's lonely
Without our darling we treasured so.

He was too pure for this world,
Too beautiful to stay,
So the angels came and bore
Our precious darling boy away.
His sweet red lips and big black eyes
Are smiling at us from the sky.
When we leave this land for that one so fair
Our own little darling will welcome us there.

Radical Reductions Throughout Our Stocks Bring About This Remarkable

Sale of Rugs

That this sale surpasses in its value-giving those of many years past is, indeed, significant. For this annual event has been long and favorably known as the occasion of the finest sort of economy.

In its 1921 occurrence this sale brings floor coverings of many types—all of the uniformly high qualities, at prices lower than they have been in several years. The following groups are concerned in this sale:

Oriental Rugs Greatly Reduced

Anatolian Mats, $9 and $12—Sarouk Mats at $35
Mosul and Hammedan Rugs, $55, $65 and $75
Lillihan Rugs in the Sale, $150 and $175

These rugs are the finer sorts in their class. In colorings and in weave they are typical. In size, practical for many uses. In each instance values are unusual. Then there are Sarouk rugs, 3 x 5-ft. size, $175, and 4 x 6-ft. size at $290.

Chinese Rugs and Carpets, Just Received, Greatly Reduced Priced on Basis of $2.50, $2.75, $3.25, Square Foot

This is an exceptional lot of fine rugs and will be sold in their natural condition as imported from China, without the usual American processing. Including the following:

The 100-String Tient Sien and Pekin carpets in the most desirable colorings are priced on the basis of $3.25 the square foot. The 70- and 80-string Chinese carpets are priced on the basis of $2.50 and $2.75 the square foot.

Sizes range from the small open-door mat up to and including rugs 12 x 15 ft. in size. This means that a 9 x 12-ft. Chinese rug containing 108 square feet would be priced in this sale at $351; in the lower grades at $270 and $297.

Sale of Linoleums

In Remnant Lengths Much Reduced in Price
Plain, 75c, and Inlaid, 90c, $1.20, $1.60 Square Yard

There is a large quantity of remnants in these groups. Both plain and high-grade inlaid linoleums and some felt back linoleums have been repriced much lower than usual. Lengths run from 6 ft. to 18 ft.—all 2 yards wide. At these pricings the values are most remarkable.

Axminster Rugs Reduced $5.75 and $9.75

In this group are small-sized Axminster rugs. In the 27 x 54-inch size they are $5.75 each; in the 36 x 70-inch size they are $9.75 each.

The quantity is limited and the price reduction has been radical. The 8¼ x 10½-ft. size, $10; the 9 x 12-ft. size, $11.

In the Sale—a Special Group of Rag and Chenille Rugs Reduced

CITY 'BAD SPOTS' GET NEW POLICE COMMANDERS

New Fitzmorris Shakeup Shifts Five Captains.

Two of the city's "bad spots"—the Cottage Grove and Chicago avenue police districts—were given new commanding officers yesterday in the second shakeup of captains since Chief Fitzmorris took office.

CAPT. MORGAN A. COLLINS.

The transfer order shifts five commanding officers, while a sixth, Capt. John J. Ryan, suspended commander of the Englewood district, was ordered before the trial board on charges of neglect of duty, inattention to duty, incapacity, inefficiency, and making a false official report. The charges were signed last night by Chief Fitzmorris.

The transferred captains are: Dennis Malloy, Chicago avenue to New City; Thomas J. Caughlin, Cottage Grove to Marquette; Morgan A. Collins, North Racine avenue to Chicago avenue; Patrick J. Gallery, Marquette to Cottage Grove; and Mathew Zimmer, New City to North Racine avenue.

Acts to Curb Vice and Crime.

Gambling and vice conditions in the Chicago avenue district and the frequency of holdups and the seeming immunity of colored crap shooters in the Cottage Grove district from all except "downtown" raiders were given among old police heads as the chief's reasons for the transfer of Capts. Malloy and Caughlin.

CAPT. PATRICK J. GALLERY.

Capt. Morgan A. Collins, who takes command in Capt. Malooy's place, is regarded as one of the strictest captains in the department. Under Chief Garrity he was in command at the Central station. The transfer of Capt. Zimmer is said to have been merely "incidental."

Adds Forty-three Policemen.

In another order Chief Fitzmorris added forty-three men to the effective strength of the police force by ordering every license officer back to traveling beat. The license officer's job is regarded as one of the "softest snaps" on the force.

NEW INDICTMENT VOTED AGAINST "TOM" O'CONNOR

A charge of murder that "Tommy" O'Connor thought he had "beaten" was yesterday reopened by the voting of a new indictment by the grand jury. Louis J. Miller, kidnaped witness whose absence forced the state to dismiss the original charge, and who was recaptured Saturday, testified anew to the slaying of "Jimmie" Cherin by O'Connor in the rear of an automobile which Miller was driving.

Dominick Cherin, father of Jimmie, who solved the mystery of his son's murder after the police had given it up, and who caused the arrest of Miller and O'Connor, was arrested yesterday. He is a deputy in the office of the bailiff of the Municipal court.

Cherin and Deputy Bailiff John Witt, 1845 West Sixty-ninth street, were taken from the city hall by Detective Sergeants McDonald and Woodrick, who had arrested John Grocjowski, 1859 West Twenty-first street, whom they found driving a stolen automobile. He claimed to have bought it from Cherin and Witt.

Widening of Ashland Ave. Assured After Long Fight

Four months' delay in preparations for the widening of Ashland avenue ended yesterday when the council streets and alleys committee, by a vote of 9 to 2, approved the ordinance which permits the filing of the special assessment roll for the improvement.

Mrs. Robert G. Carew Gets $600 a Month Alimony

Mrs. Gladys Little Carew, wife of Robert Gordon Carew, 4119 Grand boulevard, reputed millionaire merchant, was awarded $600 a month alimony in the Cincinnati, O., Court of Domestic Relations yesterday.

CAMERON'S shame was her secret. He had failed to tell his friend about a little affair that happened 175 years ago, affecting this love story by J. J. Bell.

DR. REITMAN TO DEFEND METHYL BEFORE A JURY

Methyl, opines Dr. Ben Reitman of the city health staff, is not so bad as she's pictured. Dr. Reitman will appear in Judge Brothers' court today as a character witness for Methyl. Further, he will provide two gentlemen who have basked in her smile and who will, in the presence of a jury, prove she's a kindly mistress by drinking copious draughts.

The bold wooers of Methyl are Mr. Joseph Rogasse and Mr. John Sullivan.

Dr. Reitman will appear as an expert witness in N. Greenburg's suit for damages against Cohen & Aiken, who operate a saloon at Maxwell and Jefferson streets. Greenburg alleges he bought a drink in the saloon and that, because of the wood alcohol it contained, he lost his sight.

WIFE OF FRANZEN FLITS AGAIN TO JOIN SOULMATE

'He Kicked Me Out; We'll See It Out Now.'

Forgetting the touching reconciliation scenes alleged to have been enacted in Chicago last Saturday night, Mrs. Lillian Franzen speeded away again last night to keep a tryst with her soulmate, Pierre Paul Auther, the amorous chemist of Highland Park. As she hurried through Milwaukee to catch a train for Racine, she exhibited a letter received from Auther yesterday. It directed her to register at the Racine hotel as "Mrs. Philip Marshall," under which name he would meet her today.

Her second flight followed a stay of less than fifteen hours with her husband, Philip Franzen, chief decorator for the University of Wisconsin, in their Madison home. The couple had arrived in Madison shortly after midnight. Mrs. Franzen was penitence itself.

"We were equally to blame, I suppose," she told reporters.

Refuses to Cancel Warrant.

At 9 o'clock Franzen hurried before Judge A. C. Hoppmann of the Circuit court and asked that a warrant charging Auther with having stolen his wife and $110 at the point of a gun be quashed.

"We are reconciled, and so are Auther and his wife," said Franzen.

The court, at the request of Chief Shaughnessy, refused to quash the warrant.

But while Franzen was in court the mail man called at his home with the letter from Auther. When he reached home he found his wife had packed up her things and was setting out again.

We'll See It Out.

"I am glad it all happened," she told a reporter on the way to the train. "It was worth it. I am just as determined as ever to see this thing through, and so is the other party.

"I only came back to Madison with Phil to get the rest of my clothes and personal belongings."

Franzen's version of the reason for her trip was different.

"I suggested that she go away," he said. "'It is better that you take a good long rest, Lill,' I told her. 'You had better go away where it is quiet. You are all upset.'".

On her arrival in Milwaukee at 10 o'clock last night, however, Mrs. Franzen appeared far from a nervous breakdown.

"He kicked me out!" she snapped. "Before I left he made me sign a paper promising I would not contest a divorce suit."

THE "OTHER FELLOW'S" JOB

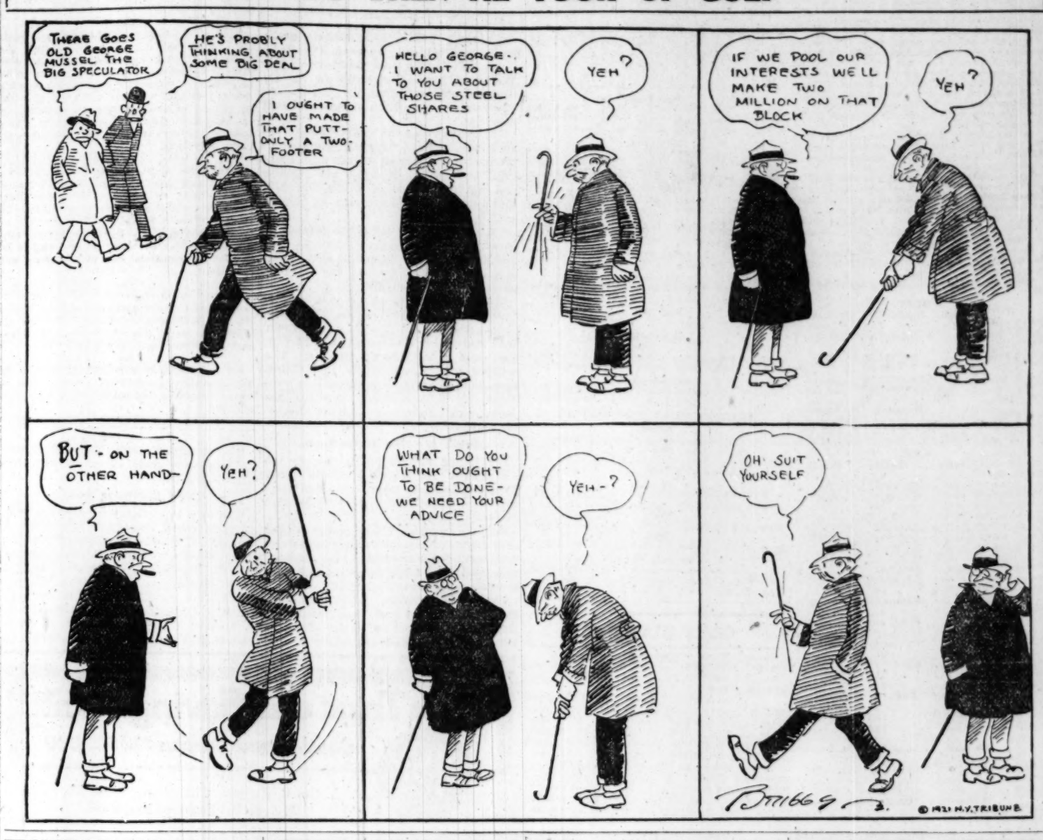

Miss Welda Reid, Miss Ida Watt, and the rooming housekeeper.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

One woman and a Ford car were responsible for placing 1,800 girls in comfortable quarters in the last year. Miss Ida Watt, director of the rooms registry bureau of the Y. W. C. A. at 59 East Monroe street, with the aid of a corps of assistants and her automobile, made 2,930 calls during the year on housekeepers who wished to register their rooms, and investigated each room before recommending it. Of that number 200 were rejected, and 300 dropped during the year.

"We are enjoying the novel sensation of having about 350 rooms needing girls instead of the usual hundreds of girls needing rooms," Miss Watt said yesterday. "Of course, this is naturally a dull season. The rush for homes is heaviest in fall and spring. The price of rooms, which increased with the raise in rents in May and October, has shown a tendency to go down as the demand has been less. The average salary of the girls who come to us is $22.50, which means they can't afford more than $5 for a room."

AND THEN HE TOOK UP GOLF

WIFE FOR WHOM HE STOLE DRIVES HIM TO GIVE UP

Likes Other Men Now, Embezzler Says.

Chief Deputy Marshal Morris Kline closed his desk with a snap yesterday evening at 5 o'clock. He reached for his hat, but before he could leave the room a ragged stranger walked hesitatingly toward his desk.

"Is this the marshal's office," he asked.

"It is," answered Kline.

"Name's Triay," the stranger introduced himself. "Edward J. I used to work for the Wells Fargo Express company in Pittsburgh. I've come to give myself up. I stole a $900 pay roll—three years ago."

Stole to Pay Wife's Doctor.

The marshal took him to a cell, where the man pulled off his ragged coat, revealing a green striped sweater.

"I stole it," he continued, "to pay the expenses of an operation for my wife. When she got well, she held my fear of arrest over my head to make me do what she wished. I wanted to go west and forget it. She wanted to stay in Chicago.

"A year ago we moved to 2207 Prairie avenue. I got a job as a cook. My wife liked other men. When I objected she told me to shut up or she would notify the federal authorities. I'd have left her, but her people are respectable. She wanted me to go away.

Brought Other Man to House.

"Yesterday she brought another man to the house. I objected. She ordered me out. I started out to find work. The first thing I knew I was in front of the federal building, so I just came in."

His wife was notified over the telephone, but refused to believe.

"She'll be glad when she finds it's true," Triay said. "She'll know where I'm at when I'm in the pen."

SUES HIS WIFE'S SISTER, HUSBAND, FOR $100,000

Charging he has been deprived of the companionship of his wife, William A. Harris, president of the Union Interior Finish company at 5319 South La Salle street, yesterday sued the two persons he holds responsible for $50,000 each.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McGimpsie of 837 Drexel square are named as the defendants in the suits. Mrs. McGimpsie is a sister of Mrs. Ellen A. Harris, the estranged wife. Mr. McGimpsie is treasurer of Harris' company.

Mrs. Harris lost in a suit for separate maintenance two years ago and later filed a bill for divorce, which is pending.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question.

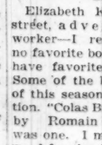

What is your favorite book?

Where Asked.

In the public library.

The Answers.

Elizabeth King, 29 East Madison street, advertising worker—I really have no favorite books, but I have favorite authors. Some of the best books of this season were fiction. "Colas Brengnon," by Romain Rolland, was one. I must say a word for the Chicago public library. I have lived in other cities, but nowhere else have I received the courteous attention I have in Chicago.

Gregory Kelly, Blackstone hotel, actor—That is a difficult question to answer. There are so many good books. Were you referring to modern books I would say "Main Street," by Sinclair Lewis, a very true and brilliantly written book.

Gertrude Shine, 714 Englewood avenue, secretary—By far the best book that I have read this year is "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," by Ibanez. His descriptions and his character building are unsurpassed in the modern school. He has a fresh point of view that sees importance in the smallest detail of human emotions.

Russell Hyman, 1862 South Avers avenue, schoolboy—I like "The Brownies, Their Book," by Palmer Cox. Their adventures are so funny, just like the Teenie Weenies. I would like to read the little book by Harold Wade, for he is a boy of my own age and could write the best stuff.

Rena Marjore Bandorf, 5300 Michigan avenue, librarian—Among my favorite books are still the classics of the Victorian period. Dickens' "David Copperfield," "Pickwick Papers," and "Vanity Fair" are the first ones I can think of just now. The present day books are entertaining, but they leave one with no food for thought. However, I enjoyed every word of "Jean Christophe," by Romain Rolland.

HIT BY STREET CAR, DIES.

David Bjurston, 36, 11434 Stevenson avenue, died yesterday of injuries incurred Saturday when he was struck by a street car at East Ninety-second street and Brandon avenue.

JURY INDICTS EDDIE MORRIS IN RECORD TIME

Up Thursday as Slayer of Mullen.

Not a minute will be wasted in bringing to trial Eddie Morris, captured after a five day man hunt, and identified as the slayer of Policeman John Mullen.

The grand jury yesterday heard the evidence and broke all records in returning an indictment. The call was set for hearing Thursday before Judge Charles A. McDonald.

If Morris cannot be brought into court Thursday, Judge McDonald will hold court at his bedside in the county jail hospital, where Morris is still in a weakened condition. The jail doctor Morris faced an ordeal yesterday when a stream of former friends and acquaintances marched past his bedside, and without an exception identified him as the one who shot Policeman Mullen in the back.

Meanwhile Sergt. Michael Grady, who was complimented by the chief and given a reward for the capture of Morris, is leading the search for Eddie McBride, companion of Morris at the time of the killing.

Harold R. Wakem, 46 East Schiller street, presented a check for $50 to Sergt. Michael Grady. Wakem's automobile, stolen by Morris, was recovered in two days by men of the detective bureau. Grady divided this money and the chief's $250 reward with the others of the rifle squad who aided him in the capture.

Jacobson Drops Suit to Divorce 'Mystery Woman'

Attorneys for Richard H. Jacobson yesterday dropped his petition for a divorce from Mrs. Gladys Virginia Jacobson, "mystery woman" in the case of Howard B. Rhodes, who was murdered while motoring in "Lovers' Lane," near Evanston, several months ago. Her attorneys were in Judge Sabath's court arguing for temporary alimony and solicitor's fees when Jacobson's counsel asked that the divorce bill be dismissed. Attorney John Owen for Mrs. Jacobson asserted she had not been reconciled to her husband.

Motorbike Cops Take Four Gunmen in Stolen Auto

Surrounding an automobile they had trailed for three hours Motorcycle Policemen Frank Hackett, William Best, and Theodore Stevens last night brought to the Town Hall station four armed men. They said they were A. B. Rush, 9172 Homan avenue; William Dunne, 2133 Clifton avenue; Fred Prell, 37 North Kilbourn avenue, and Richard Burns, 1438 West Madison street. They refused to talk. The automobile had been stolen from R. J. Stern, 3228 South Douglas boulevard.

BEG YOUR PARDON

An item in THE TRIBUNE of Jan. 6, referring to the disappearance of Miss Arlen Petersen, daughter of Andrew Petersen of 3615 Leland avenue, said she vanished after her father had objected to her quitting school to go to work. Mr. Petersen says she had taken a position two months before her disappearance. The item quoted a schoolgirl friend as telling the police the missing girl had been seen in a loop café with a lawyer. Her father says she was with him on the evening mentioned.

City Calls for Bids on $11,455,000 Worth of Bonds

Sealed bids for 4 per cent city bonds to the face value of $11,455,000 were requested yesterday by City Controller Harding. The bids are to be opened Jan. 20. The bonds, which include $1,753,000 of the Michigan avenue improvement bonds, series of 1915, $2,700,000 for the same improvement, series of 1918, and $1,331,000 for the widening of Western avenue, are exempt from federal income tax.

Retailers' Head Predicts Lower Furniture Prices

Slightly lower furniture prices were predicted yesterday by John L. Young of Cleveland, O., president of the Retail Furniture Dealers' Association of the United States, in session at the Auditorium hotel.

OUT IN THE YARDS POLITENESS NETS A POLICEMAN $50

Policeman More Courteous than Office Help.

Into the unsavory atmosphere of Packingtown, where the lowing herd becomes the high priced beefsteak and the hog is made to blossom as the chop, rode the politeness reporter yesterday. The air seemed to call for comment, so——

"What's all this smell around here?" he inquired of a pulchritudinous lass who was about to board the "L" train.

"Roses," was the smart reply.

"What did you s'pose?"

This question so decisively disposed of, the reporter went about the business of locating one Barney Moore, a mythical entity among the 80,000 men and women who toil in the yards. His quest led him to the third floor of the Armour office building.

The Lassie Tries to Help.

"Why, no. I don't know him," said a girl whose steps he intercepted. "Do you know what department he works in?"

The reporter shook his head.

"No. Barney wrote home about a week ago that he was employed at Armour's. His mother sent us here to look for him."

The girl hesitated for a moment, then:

"Well, it will be pretty hard to find your friend if you don't know more about his job," she said. "I'll telephone upstairs and see if they can tell us where he is."

She returned from a nearby transmitter to report that a B. J. Moore was on the Armour payroll. He worked in the timekeeper's office. The girl pointed out the route thereto.

Impatience Costs Her $50.

"Perhaps it would be easier to phone him," suggested the reporter. The girl, just a trifle impatient, led him back to the forsaken transmitter and bade him use it. Then she disappeared.

"Too anxious towards the last to get rid of you," observed THE TRIBUNE photographer. The politeness seekers were walking down stairs. Suddenly an upbound elevator stopped at the landing. The girl was in it.

"There's our friend," spoke the reporter. "If she would only show enough interest now to get off and ask us if we located Barney, we'd give her the $50."

The girl remained in the elevator.

"Sook, sook! Ca-boss!" came the cry to their right. A driver, whip in hand, was herding a bunch of bovines.

"What sort of cows are those, mister?" called the reporter.

"Bull cows," replied the driver, and went his way guffawing.

To Swift's administration building turned the reporter and his companion. There a young elevator operator glared at them when they called the second floor. He stopped his car six inches below the level and opened the door only part of the way.

"Barney Moore?" repeated the girl at the information desk. She glanced impatiently towards the clock. It was nearly quitting time.

Passes the Buck.

Half-hearted was the latest inquiree's effort to locate the prodigal Barney. At 5 o'clock arrived she passed the buck to a man on the first floor. He, too, was about to slough the reporter aside, when a sob story was invoked. Then he made an earnest effort to find Mr. Moore, but——

The "but" tells the story.

"Well," said the reporter, "the only one we've met all afternoon who was unqualifiedly courteous was that little Dutch copper we met upstairs."

This individual—Lambertus Yonker—is his name—is policeman No. 378 in the Swift employ. To him the politeness scribe had gone a few hours earlier and asked to see the process whereby quadrupeds became food.

"Go right down the road a piece until you come to the building with the tall flagstaff and they'll be glad to show you through," he said.

The reporter looked puzzled.

Shows the Way.

"Here, I'll show you," volunteered the cop. He led the way for many hundred feet until the flagstaff could be pointed out. The scribe asked a dozen or more questions—most of them insipid.

With a cheery wave of his hand the cop bade good-by. On the way back to his post he was met by the photographer with the same line of questions. Right about face went Yonker and conducted the second THIBUNE man with the same courteous grace.

"I always do the best I can for people," said No. 378 when awarded the $50. "It's just as easy as—well, as being bow-wow-wow about it."

Yonker is 61 years old. He was born in Holland, coming to America in '86.

$2,600 Gone, Police Seek Accountant, Also Missing

A warrant charging the theft of $2,600 worth of Liberty bonds was obtained yesterday for Stark Hathaway of 412 Marion street, Oak Park, an accountant formerly employed by Marvin Scudder & Co. Young Hathaway. It is charged, was assigned to make an audit of the books of Andrews & Co., brokers at 163 West Washington street. The audit was completed Dec. 31. Young Hathaway disappeared. Yesterday the loss of the Liberty bonds was discovered.

Offered Bungalow, Flivver, and Pajamas if He'll Wed

Fellow members of the Kiwanas club yesterday offered to a bachelor member, A. E. Wright, 1308 Sherman avenue, Evanston, as an inducement to wed, a furnished bungalow, a flivver, and three suits of pajamas. The only detail overlooked was a bride. Mr. Wright, who intimated he might accept the offer, stipulated he didn't want "a baby vamp," and that she must not powder, use rouge, or wear her corsets unbuckled.

SELL GRAINS ON "CALENDAR TIP," THEN BUY BACK

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Grain prices made their lowest yesterday around the start of trading, from which there was a good advance, with wheat and rye in the lead.

Traders sold at the start on the theory that, this being Jan. 10, it was time for a break, as, according to the calendar, prices frequently decline around this date. Those who sold spent the rest of the day getting their grain back. News was bullish on wheat and rather bearish on corn. At the close wheat was 2@3¼c higher; corn, ⅛@¼c lower; oats, ⅛c higher to unchanged; rye, 2⅝@3¼c higher, and barley, unchanged.

Export orders for wheat were numerous, but the sharp advance prevented the buying in of hedges and business was restricted to 250,000 bu, although there were indications sales exceeded that figure. Millers were after wheat here and found offerings light. Seaboard houses were buyers of March, and there were indications of covering by the largest interests, who were active in selling May the middle of last week.

Corn Receipts Large.

Corn receipts were the largest of the season, with indications of a free movement for some time. Offerings here were picked up largely by elevator and cash interests, part for storage purposes and the balance to fill sales for export and to the east.

There was buying on the break by the leading elevator interests at 74c for May, while at 74¾c, the day's top, there appeared to be plenty of sellers.

A small trade was on in oats, with the range only ¼c, but the close was at the top. Cash houses were the best sellers, and commission houses, which were the best sellers last week, were buyers.

Rye continues scarce, with bids of No. 2 on track at 15c over May, an advance of 1c. Export orders were in the market, but scarcity of offerings checked business. Exporters are paying practically as much for rye, pound for pound, as they are for wheat. Cash barley was dull and unchanged.

Provisions Weaken with Hogs.

Provision prices declined with a break of 35@50c in hogs and the largest run in a long time. Cash offerings were light and held at full prices. Exports of bacon and lard for the week were 23,373,000 lbs, compared with 59,459,000 last year. Prices follow:

LESS PEP TO HAY TRADE

With arrivals of 66 cars timothy, there was less pep to the demand and more cars sold at quotations than for a week past. No. 1 timothy was $28.00@29.00, No. 2 timothy and No. 1 clover mixed $24.00@26.00, No. 3 timothy $21.00@23.00, sample hay $19.00@21.00.

Alfalfa met a fair inquiry from the country trade at $18.00@28.00. Arrivals were 6 cars, or enough to satisfy the demand.

Prairie is selling better, with 4 cars southwestern, 1 car Nebraska, 1 car South Dakota, and 3 cars Illinois in. Southwestern, $16.00@17.00; Nebraska and South Dakota, $14.00@16.00; Illinois, $11.00@13.00; packing, $11.00@12.00.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

While there were numerous export bids for cash wheat in the market, the advance in futures checked business and sales were only 250,000 bu, all hard winters via the gulf. It was understood that the wheat sold at $2.00 a bu f. o. b. the gulf for deferred shipment. Export sales of corn in all positions were 325,000 bu, including 175,000 bu from Chicago at 12@12¾c over May, track Baltimore. There was also 32,000 bu barley sold at 78½c track New York.

Domestic shipping sales were 37,000 bu wheat, 70,000 bu corn, and 25,000 bu oats.

Milling demand for cash wheat was brisk, with premiums 2½c higher on dark No. 1 northern sold at 17½c over March. No. 3 dark northern was 3½@5c over March, against 8c under recently. No. 1 hard winter sold at 15@16c over, the latter an advance of 1c. Receipts, 29 cars.

In the southwest milling demand was fair, with red at St. Louis unchanged and hard 3c higher. Kansas City was unchanged to 3c higher and Omaha 1@2c higher.

Two elevator interests bought the bulk of the 715 cars of corn received here, with prices ½@1c lower. The basis was 1c lower as compared with May, with No. 4 yellow 7½@8½c under, No. 4 mixed at 9@9½c under, and No. 4 white 8½@9c under May. Outside markets were 1c higher to 1c lower.

Receipts of oats were larger with prices ½c lower. No. 2 white brought 1½@1¾c under May. Receipts, 195 cars.

PIT IS NECESSARY TO WORLD MARTS, GRIFFIN ASSERTS

Farmers' efforts to eliminate grain exchanges will not succeed, President Joseph P. Griffin told members of the Board of Trade yesterday in his inaugural address, because "they are essential to the functioning of world markets."

The charge that the exchanges are responsible for the existing decline in prices he pronounced untrue and illogical. It is the law of supply and demand and not the Board of Trade activities that causes price fluctuations, he pointed out.

"We stand ready always to defend the operations of the grain exchanges. We owe no apology for them," he said. "Our system of handling grains is the best that has ever been devised."

Others who assumed office are J. J. Fones and T. E. Cunningham, vice presidents; and Fred S. Lewis, C. H. Stone, J. C. Murray, D. H. Lipsey, Allan M. Clement, and K. P. Edwards, directors. The retiring officers are Leslie F. Gates, president; Charles H. Sullivan, vice president; E. F. Rosenbaum, Edward Andrew, G. W. Hales, and Adolph Krempner, directors.

Hopes for New Home Soon.

Mr. Griffin said he hoped that by the end of 1921 the Board of Trade would have a permanent home; that the quarters now occupied are an architectural disgrace to the loop.

Retiring President Gates' report showed that $35,700 of Board of Trade bonds had been canceled during the year, leaving $514,300 outstanding. Gross receipts were $979,586; expenditures, $904,971.

The grain sampling department handled 78,888 cars of grain, compared with 131,378 in 1919, and tested for moisture 45,277 cars, compared with 76,273 in 1919.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

Wheat traders are disposed to work on the constructive side for the present, despite the fact this is the time of year when they usually become bearish. Reports from Kansas City said exporters were large buyers and that half of the 577 cars received there yesterday would be reshipped for export via the gulf.

Most of the coarse grain traders are bearish. Corn operators are discounting the effect of the big movement, while in oats there is not enough speculation coming in to be a factor. Germany is said to be arranging credits with which to buy 4,000,000 bu corn. At 12½c over Chicago, May, track Baltimore for immediate shipment, the basis on which most of the corn is being sold, it figures 6c under May here.

Within less than a week No. 1 northern at Winnipeg has advanced 5c and No. 3 northern 10c, as compared with the May, the latter selling yesterday at 2c under the future. This has resulted in a revival of reports that shorts in the December delivery had made a private settlement and were to be allowed to complete the cash transactions in January.

Contract stocks of wheat in public elevators in Chicago Saturday night aggregated 778,000 bu, corn 730,000 bu, and oats 1,836,000 bu. Wheat decreased 43,000 bu for the week, corn 180,000 bu, and oats 245,000 bu.

No definite statement was given out by the Argentine government yesterday as to action regarding imposition of a super export tax.

The custodian's office handled 91,845,513 bushels of grain, compared with 137,071,415 in 1919.

New Executive Body.

The new executive committee consists of Mr. Gates, chairman, and John A. Bunnell, C. H. Canby, Edward Andrew, John E. Brennan, T. E. Cunningham, E. D. McDougal, Robert McDougal, R. W. McKinnon, J. P. Molloy, Howard B. Jackson, B. A. Eckhart, W. N. Eckhardt, J. C. Murray, Frank B. Rice, John J. Stream, William Simons, C. H. Sullivan, G. B. Van Ness, and A. J. White.

How to Build Up a Fortune by Systematic Investment

REGULAR, systematic saving and sound investment are the roots of most large fortunes. By laying aside a comparatively small amount of money each week or each month, every man may build up a comfortable fortune. For example, $10 a week, saved regularly and invested safely at 6%, will amount to $20,000 in a little over 20 years.

Study the following table, which vividly shows how small sums mount up into comparatively large ones in this way:

SAM SHOWS ALL THE WORLD HOW TO CUT PRICES

BY O. A. MATHER.

That the downward readjustment of commodity prices has proceeded more extensively and bids fair to be completed more quickly in the United States than in the other principal countries of the world is the inference to be drawn by a comparison of the latest statistics. The December compilations show the declines in the average of commodity prices from the high levels of 1920 were as follows: United States, 39 1-3 per cent; England, 29¾ per cent; France, 21⅜ per cent; Japan, 31¼ per cent; Canada, 14¾ per cent; Sweden, 10 1-3 per cent; India, 11 per cent, and Italy, 2⅛ per cent.

In the United States the present average of commodity prices is the lowest since October, 1916, while a calculation based on Bradstreet's data shows that 67 per cent of the total rise between August, 1914, the last pre-war month, and February, 1920, when the peak of high prices was reached, has now been canceled.

Samuel Sets the Pace.

A comparison of the trend of prices in the United States and England is particularly interesting. Whereas the decline in the United States in December was 7 per cent, a considerably smaller general recession than occurred in November, the December fall of 10⅛ per cent in English prices was described as the most extensive in any month since statistics have been compiled. On Jan. 1 the English average was below that of a year before, something that could not be said of any other English average since the war began.

Thus it would appear that England in December repeated the experience of the United States in November, and a fair inference would be, in view of the lesser drop in the American figures for December, as compared with November, that the United States is going through its readjustment earlier and may be expected to show improvement more quickly. The declines shown for all countries also illustrates the extraordinarily world-wide character of last year's great readjustment.

Steel Orders Slump.

The continued slump in the steel industry is strikingly illustrated in the monthly tonnage report issued by the United States Steel corporation yesterday. On Dec. 31 the corporation had 8,148,122 tons of unfilled orders on hand, compared with 9,021,481 tons on Nov. 30. This decrease of 873,350 tons was the largest for any single month since 1914, marks the fifth consecutive month to show a decline, and brings unfilled orders to the smallest total since November, 1919, when the total was 7,128,350 tons. The total on Dec. 31, 1919, a year ago, was 8,265,366 tons.

But, even with this adverse showing, it must be remembered the steel corporation is not suffering nearly to the extent of the independent concerns. The corporation is operating at about 85 per cent of capacity, while operations of the independents are not averaging more than about half capacity. Thus the corporation has orders on its books assuring it a fair business for several months, whereas many of the independents are wholly or partially idle.

The New York Times.

New York, Jan. 10.—[Special.]—In two separate branches of the financial market belated and overconfident speculators for the decline were roughly handled today. Sterling exchange sold at one time 10 cents above last week's final rate and nearly 20 cents above the December closing. On the stock exchange, after a forenoon of what seemed to be uncertainty as to the movement of prices, a renewed advance set in, which in some stocks became fairly spectacular before the close.

Advances of more than 9 points in Crucible Steel, 5 in Mexican Petroleum, more than 4 in Studebaker and Pan-American Petroleum, and 3 or more in American Woolen, International Mercantile Marine preferred, American International, and American Hide and Leather preferred were exceptional, but advances of from 1 to 3 points were numerous, extending even to the railway shares. Among the less active issues Julius Kayser advanced 8¼; Wells-Fargo, 7; May Department Stores, 6; and Adams Express, 4 points.

"Bear" Party Routed.

The meaning of this movement was quite unmistakable, and there was little reason for being surprised at it. The "bear party," which not only the outside public but Wall street itself had in December begun to consider as something superhuman, was in reality distinguished for little except the crudeness of its methods and the recklessness of its procedure. Its ventures were attended by a success whose later continuance was largely accidental, and it was to be expected the result would be for the individuals who had been favored with such good fortune to engage all the more recklessly in the market when the circumstances which had favored their venture were about to disappear.

This would seem to be the simple story of the market's action, much as it was the story, taken in reverse, of the experiences of the individuals to whom the market of last March ascribed an occult power of putting up prices at their will.

Some Reaction Toward Last.

Taking today's market as a whole, the scope of the changes was irregular, evidently being governed by the extent to which speculators were entangled in a given stock. There was some reaction at the last, but not of general importance.

The remarkable advance in sterling to $3.73½, as against $3.33 as lately as Nov. 6, brought that market to the highest level since July. Wall street seemed able to give no better reason than the already well known negotiations of the British treasury for refunding its short term obligations to our government. That plan is important as a sentimental influence, but at the bottom the decline in sterling exchange last autumn was as much a matter of overdone speculation as was the subsequent decline in securities.

FINANCIAL NOTES

The W. H. McElwain company has passed the quarterly dividend on its common stock. Three months ago this dividend was reduced from $1.50 to 75 cents a share. The regular quarterly dividends of $1.75 a share on the first preferred and 75 cents on the second preferred stocks were declared, payable Feb. 1 to stock of record Jan. 15. Directors of Jones Brothers Tea company, operating a chain of stores, have passed the quarterly dividend of one-half of one per cent on the common stock.

The issue of $30,000,000 Northwestern Bell Telephone company first mortgage twenty-year 7 per cent bonds, offered for public subscription yesterday at 96½, to yield more than 7.30 per cent, by a syndicate headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., was reported sold and the books closed by 11 o'clock.

The Allis-Chalmers company has received an order for $1,000,000 worth of gas engines to be installed at the South Chicago plant of the United States Steel corporation.

With the largest day's receipts of hogs in twelve months at 75,000, the market declined 25@50c to the lowest point since New Year's day, when the general average reached $9.25. Yesterday's average dropped 35c to $9.35, with top lightweights at $9.70.

Shippers purchased 15,000, which helped the trade in midsession, but with 72,000 more expected today the market naturally weakened late in the day, with 13,000 left in the pens. Armour houses bought 10,000 and Swift concerns as many more.

The quality generally was good.

Excessive supplies of cattle forced a break of 25c@$1.00 in values, and many of the 29,000 received went over unsold. The best steers offered sold at $11.00. Lambs were largely 50c lower, the best selling at $12.00. First Colorado lambs of the season went over unsold. Aged sheep shared in the decline.

Seven western markets received 73,000 cattle, 158,000 hogs, and 83,000 sheep, against 46,000 cattle, 81,000 hogs, and 50,000 sheep previous Monday, and 77,000 cattle, 157,000 hogs, and 56,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts for today are estimated at 17,000 cattle, 72,000 hogs, and 16,000 sheep, against 20,861 cattle, 57,295 hogs, and 17,896 sheep at Chicago corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

KENWOOD HOTEL IS SOLD IN TWO MILLION DEAL

The Kenwood hotel, at Forty-seventh street and Kenwood avenue, yesterday passed into the hands of new owners, Montgomery Brothers of Macon, Miss. They gave in payment to G. F. Kritenbrink, the seller, two plantations in Noxubee county, Miss., comprising 13,000 acres of agricultural and timber land.

Although the valuation given is nominal, it is said to be in the neighborhood of $2,000,000. The hotel building is a seven story fireproof structure, and has been a home for many Chicago families for a number of years.

Montgomery Bros. were represented by Paul E. Hoeppner & Co., 3228 Lincoln avenue. W. C. Raber represented the seller. Samuel Peterson handled the legal details for the purchasers and Eugene Garey for Mr. Kritenbrink.

New Shoe Firm Leases.

The wholesale shoe district in South Wells street is to be augmented by a new corporation, which will deal exclusively in women's footwear, according to the terms of a lease made by the Globe-Wernicke company and Jacob Franks with the K-T Shoe company for the six story building and basement at 43-45 South Wells street. The lease is for ten years at a term rental of $160,000. P. D. Du Charme of J. G. Kirk & Co. represented all parties in the transaction.

The leasehold estate, including a three story brick building containing ten stores and a seventy-five room hotel, on the southwest corner of Argyle street and Sheridan road, has been sold for a reported $175,000, subject to $83,500, to Edwin J. Brach. The seller was James G. Upton, who had just obtained the property from Nannette Curran. Kurt Rosenthal was the broker.

G. T. Kelly has purchased business property on the northeast corner of Kedzie street and Chicago avenue, Evanston, consisting of four stores, eight offices, and thirteen apartments, on lot 60x183 feet, for a reported $75,000, subject to $38,500. The seller, Murray Wolbach, took as part payment some property in Milwaukee. The E. E. Stults Realty company represented Mr. Wolbach and M. L. Goldman of Milwaukee the purchaser.

Two Loop Leases at $130,000.

That part of the Hartford building occupied by the Rose and Alcazar theaters, motion picture houses, at 67 and 69 West Madison street, has been leased by the Moir Hotel company for two years, at a term rental of $130,000, to J. K. Sax, Thomas Sax, and J. S. Grauman. The lessees have an option for an additional leave of three years providing the owners decide not to improve the site with a new building.

William L. Wallen & Sons have completed the double sale of the three story twelve apartment building on the northwest corner of Farwell and Greenview avenues. The property was purchased from Alfred Levi by S. T. Bradbury for an indicated $39,000, subject to $15,000. He in turn sold it to John M. Eckert for a reported $56,500, subject to $46,500. Mr. Eckert gave as part payment some vacant property at Seventy-ninth and Halsted streets.

The Chicago Mortgage Bankers' association's first regular meeting of the year will be held tomorrow at 6 p. m. in the Union League club. Moses E. Greenebaum, president of Greenebaum & Sons' bank, will be the principal speaker.

General Motors.

J. C.—General Motors common stock is of no par value. Dividends of 25 cents a share quarterly are being paid. The quarterly stock dividend of one-fortieth of a share has been discontinued. The annual report for 1920 is not yet completed, but people connected with the company are talking of the debenture and preferred dividends being covered nine times, leaving about $2.75 earned on each common share. The stock is subject to extremely wide fluctuations in the market and in the past is supposed to have been manipulated at times. The annual report will appear soon.

Macwhyte.

L. E. H.—The Macwhyte company was formed many years ago and formerly made public few details of its affairs. Last summer it issued $500,000 of serial notes and made public a balance sheet of March 31, giving effect to the new financing. It showed $136,200 of common stock and $100,000 of preferred. There was a surplus of $1,483,225 and no funded debt except the new notes. Earnings had averaged $269,940 a year for four years after all charges except federal taxes. The showing is most favorable as far as it goes, but evidently it is not complete.

Pierce Oil.

R. B.—The Pierce Oil corporation has $23,872,750 of common stock outstanding and $15,000,000 of preferred. The latter was issued in 1919 to provide for maturing debentures. Dividends have been paid on it regularly. Earnings on the common shares have usually figured out at $2 or $3 a year in recent years. In 1919 $2.44 was earned. Earnings for 1920 were estimated last October at $4.08. A stock dividend of 2½ per cent was paid July 1 last and another on Oct. 1.

YOU INSURE AGAINST FIRES—WHY NOT AGAINST FAILURES?

YOU would not think of going without insurance against fire for your factory or office. Yet, when a debtor fails, the dollar you lose that way, is just as much a loss, as the dollar you might lose by fire, when unprotected.

Statistics show that losses from bad debts for five years prior to the war were largely in excess of fire losses paid in the same period.

When you carry "LONDON" Credit Insurance you always know exactly where you stand. You can't lose. Your excess losses are paid by us forty-five days after any insured account fails. That's not a collection agency hope—it's a guarantee in advance.

And "LONDON" Credit Insurance costs less than you think. We can write a policy to exactly fit your case. Ask us how. There's no obligation.
